STRANGE BEDFELLOWS, STRANGE BEDS

With spring busting out all over, birds in Marin are setting up housekeeping in the oddest places. The six robin's eggs in the top picture have blocked sale of that $15.95 plant at the Safeway Store in Tiburon. Management doesn't want to disturb the nest. In the lower picture, the fledglings, whatever they are, are real, but the tree—at the Kentfield home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sclar at 54 Behrens Drive—is plastic. (Independent-Journal photos)

Tiburon Man Believed Drowned In Boat Fall

Edward R. Salvadalena, of 394 Greenwood Beach Road, fell from a 24-foot boat, the Whisper, during a regatta beset by gusts to more than 45 miles an hour.

The Coast Guard said three other occupants tossed him a life jacket, but by the time they could turn around, he had disappeared. A cap and a life jacket were found several hours later about one mile west of Treasure Island, but were not positively identified as Salvadalena's.

Two Coast Guard cutters and a helicopter, called shortly after the accident happened at 1:06 p.m., searched until 4:30 p.m., the Coast Guard reported. The search will not be resumed unless there is some new evidence in the tragedy, a spokesman said.

A native of Washington, Salvadalena had lived in Marin for about nine years. He was a graduate of San Jose State College, where he was a star football player, and played rugby for the Olympic Club.

He was a physical therapist, and has his office in San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife Joanne; his father, and several brothers and sisters, all of Washington.

Fowler For Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Treasury Secretary Henry S. Fowler today publicly endorsed a Senate-House compromise plan calling for a $6 billion spending cut in addition to the 10 per cent income tax increase sought by President Johnson.

5,000 Enemy Troops Killed Or Captured

Communist Down Transport, Killing Members Of Crew

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. military spokesmen claimed victory today in the nine-day-old battle of Saigon with 5,000 Communist troops killed or captured. But in the central highlands North Vietnamese troops overran a Green Beret camp and shot down a transport plane laden with South Vietnamese troops.

At least five U.S. Air Force crew members were killed when the Communist shot down a C130 transport flying an "unknown number" of South Vietnamese from the special forces camp at Kham Duc in the central highlands 350 miles north of Saigon. (See also pictures, page 6.)

HEAVY LOSSES

The number of Vietnamese aboard was not known but the huge transport can carry up to 100 men. In addition the attack force of 3,000 North Vietnamese inflicted heavy losses on U.S. Army and Marine defenders and on the Cvilian Irregular Defense Group in camp.

A spokesman said 19 Americans were killed, seven soldiers and 12 Marines, and 96 wounded, 75 Army and 21 Marines.

Eight-engine B52 bombers struck Communist forces in the area during the night and a spokesman estimated that 300 Communists were killed in the ground fighting. The base is close to the Laos border opposite the coastal town of Kam Ty.

OFFENSIVE CRUSHED

Military spokesmen in Saigon reported the spring offensive against the capital was "crushed" and said a high-ranking North Vietnamese defector reported the offensive was mounted to improve Hanoi's position at the Vietnam talks starting today in Paris.

The defector was a lieutenant colonel who headed one of the battalions ordered to attack Saigon at all cost. He said he turned himself in because of the needless waste of life among his men in suicidal attacks.

Lt. Gen Bruce Palmer, deputy commanding U.S. Army general in Vietnam, said the Saigon area is secure—"We have the situation well in hand."

17 TO ONE RATION

U.S. spokesmen said about 12,000 Communists drove against Saigon May 5. They said 80 to 90 per cent were North Vietnamese.

Almost 3,000 of the Communists killed fell in battles in and just outside the city limits. Allied spokesmen said 17 Communists were killed for every Allied soldier killed in the fighting.

The capital was secure but badly damaged. The fighting added 104,000 refugees to the 100,000 left over from the Communists' vain February attempt to invade Saigon. This city of 2 million residents suffered 10,700 houses destroyed. Hospitals said 114 civilians died in their wards and 2,702 were treated for wounds.

Electronic Oven Radiation Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Two university scientists warned today of possible radiation health hazards from electronic ovens, radar and diathermy machines. Both supported temporary minimum safety standards pending more research.

Prof. H. P. Schwann of the University of Pennsylvania and Prof. Charles Susskind of the University of California, told a Senate hearing they were certain exposure to non-nuclear type radiation could cause both bodily and biological damage.

Hanoi Declares It Has Won War As Paris Parley Opens

U.S. Asks Sign Of Restraint

PARIS (UPI) — The United States and North Vietnam opened preliminary talks on Vietnam today with a Communist claim it had won the war and a U.S. proposal to restore the Demilitarized Zone and begin "pulling apart" U.S. and North Vietnamese forces as a first step to scaling down the war.

The long-awaited talks began in an atmosphere of deep and bitter suspicion on each side. The chief delegates shook hands politely and then launched into bitter recriminations that included a Hanoi charge of "monstrous crimes" committed by America.

HARRIMAN REPLYS

W. Averell Harriman, the Washington envoy, accused North Vietnam of openly sending its regular army into South Vietnam. He demanded some sign of restraint by Hanoi to match President Johnson's de-escalation of the air war against the North.

Xuan Thuy, the Hanoi envoy, said the United States and its South Vietnam allies had been "defeated" in the war and said there could be no formal peace talks until Washington ended the bombing of the North and all other acts of war.

The two sides laid down their opening barrages in a first three-hour session of preliminary "peace talks" here. It was the first time they had met across the conference table in an attempt to end the fighting of a years-long undeclared war.

ORNATE ROOM

They began their talks in an ornate grey and gold room of the International Conference Center shortly after 10:30 a.m. (2:30 a.m. PDT) and ended at 1:45 p.m. (5:45 a.m. PDT).

They agreed to meet again at the same time on Wednesday after retiring to divest the opening statements—2,000 words by Harriman and 4,500 words by Thuy.

The talking on both sides was tough, although Harriman later described it as diplomatically "correct." They began informally on Friday.

Thuy opened with a two-hour denunciation of alleged American aggression. Harriman, an old hand at dealing with the Communists, replied firmly that he "disagreed with and completely rejected" most of the Hanoi charges.

Then he proceeded to lay

Town Meeting In Hub Produces Year's Worth Of Action Ideas

By ALAN JONES

San Anselmo's third town meeting produced enough proposals for action Saturday to keep the town council, its commissions and the district school board busy until the next town meeting a year from now.

Upward of 200 citizens first saw a slide-illustrated lecture by consultant William Siden and then split into six panel groups to discuss the town's needs and set priorities.

Recommendations included the perennial one of redesigning the Hub, the town's tangled main intersection; sprucing up donwtown as Mill Valley has done, development of the creek area, tax relief for owners who upgrade their property, support of school bond issues, setting up a teen center and a bypass route for traffic driving through the town.

The town meeting seems to work. Valmar A. Senaaf, chairman of the panel on traffic and streets, said two of the panel's three recommendations of last year have been acted on — hiring a traffic consultant and a program to resurface streets instead of patching.

Siden's slide show showed the city's recent improvements and also its sore spots, some of them existing since Siden's first presentation in 1966.

The recommendations worked out by the panels in two-hour discussions were all adopted by the assembly, most unanimously and the others with minor dissent.

It was not all harmony during the panel meetings, but the most criticized were the absent. In the downtown panel attended by approximately 30 persons, only three businessmen were present. "There's your answer," said panelist Lawrence Wright. "There is no interest" among downtown merchants, he said.

"There's strong interest," a member of the audience countered. "What's lacking is direction." San Anselmo has had a master plan for five or six years without doing anything about it, he said. What is needed is to choose a plan of action and start acting on it, he said, such as improving the creek area to make it a downtown attraction.

In the park and recreation panel session, chairman David Faw said several vacant buildings could serve as a teen center, but owners are letting them stand empty rather than cut the rent. One two-part building has been empty for two years but rent asked is still nearly $500 a month, he said.

The recommendations of the six panels:

DOWNTOWN

1. The chamber of commerce should cooperate with local governmental agencies and property owners to beautify and develop the creek area as an attraction and a stimulant to business.

2. "Paint, polish and promote" to be the theme for the entire business area.

CIVIC PRIDE AND BEAUTIFICATION

1. Encourage the council to speed up passage of the revised sign ordinance including rigid restrictions as in Mill Valley.

2. Designate an annual cleanup week, supported by the governing bodies, with a city trash pickup at designated areas; monthly trash pickups at designated spots, and purchase of more city litter baskets to be placed in strategic locations.

3. The town should go on record supporting tax relief bill ACA 20 or similar legislation offering tax relief for property owners who upgrade their property.

4. On Red Hill, the town should remove or cover the foundation of the razed apartments which collapsed in 1967, and plant the area with trees or wildflowers. The house on the hill (the Cook house) should be removed or its appearance upgraded.

Rain Expected To Taper Off

Unexpected showers hit Marin early today — just enough to rust toys and barbecues left outside because the weatherman predicted fair skies.

Claiming that the showers were a little unusual, the U.S. Weather Bureau today predicted a 40 per cent chance of rain tonight, and only 10 per cent tomorrow. Westerly winds will be 20-35 miles an hour late today and this evening.

Temperatures are expected to be below normal for several days.

The rainfall in San Rafael at noon was .10 of an inch. Rainfall around the county this morning was recorded at .22 of an inch in Bolinas, .02 at Tamalpais Valley and Sausalito, .01 at Novato and Larkspur and .08 at San Anselmo.

Priest Gets New Heart; 14th Patient

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A 45-year-old Catholic priest in Paris, who yesterday became the 14th person in medical history to receive a heart transplant, today was reported conscious and in "satisfactory" condition.

Paris newspapers and radio broadcasts said the priest received the heart of a 39-year-old man in a six-hour operation. Three other transplant patients in Houston and London were doing well.

Yesterday's heart transplant was performed in Paris' Broussais Hospital. The names of the donor and recipient were not released by the hospital.

The Paris morning newspaper L'Aurore said the recipient was a 45-year-old Dominican priest. The newspaper said chief surgeon Charles DuBost was assisted by several other top French physicians in the six-hour operation.

Roblain received the heart of a 23-year-old metal worker April 27 in Paris' La Pitie Hospital and Reynes recieved his transplant last Thursday in Montpellier.

Doctors seemed pleased today with the progress of three other recent transplant patients in London and Houston.

Labor, Students Join In Park Strike

PARIS (AP) — Tens of thousands of students and workers marched across the heart of Paris today, their forces joined in the first nationwide general strike in 10 years of Gaullist rule. They protested police methods used to break up last week's student riots.

But the strike, though disrupting most public services, was only partially successful, even with the backing of the nation's four major labor federations.

Police stayed clear of the marchers, organized to the point of having their own motorcycle outriders to keep order. They carried banners that said, "Down with Gaullist repression," "Gaullist power is receding" and "Students will show the way."

The demonstration and strike were called to support student demands in their 10 days of demonstrations which often turned the Latin Quarter into a battleground. But the government had already met all of the students' immediate demands, thus taking much of the steam out of the movement.

The Sorbonne — liberal arts faculty of the University of Paris — was reopened today, but there were no classes because the professors were on strike.

Train service was reduced, departure of international flights from France was canceled, traffic in the cities was less than normal. But power supplies continued with only spotty interruptions and many shops and offices did business as usual.

In Paris, one of the electricity cutoffs hit the two hotels housing the U.S. and North Vietnamese delegations to the Vietnam peace conference.

But at the conference building, where full-scale discussions got under way this morning, there were no effects.

The nation's four main trade unions acted together for the first time in more than a decade to organize the strike.

Security officials hoped that a major demonstration planned during the afternoon would not turn violent. Thousands of students were expected to join with workers in a three-hour march through a working class district to the left bank.

The strike was called in support of students at the University of Paris whose conflict with the government erupted last week in bloody battles with police.

Aid Rescuers

HOMINY FALLS, W. VA (UPI) — Survivors of flooded coal mine helped other rescuers pumping and blasting today in an effort to find 10 other miners missing and presumed dead.

"We have to help," said Edward Rudd, one of the 15 who crawled to safety on a conveyor belt Saturday, five days after water pent up in a nearby abandoned mine broke through into the tunnel of the Gauley Coal & Coke Co.'s No. 8 mine.

"I couldn't sit home when I know the others are still in there," Rudd said.

Fatal Crash

APPLE VALLEY (AP) — Three Air Force captains died after their single - engine plane touched a power line and flipped over into a vacant lot.

Frederick A. Jackson, the pilot; James M. Butcher and Richard C. DeBrawl had just taken off from the Apple Valley Airport yesterday after a weekend visit with their families living nearby in the Southern California desert.

The officers were stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson, Ariz.

Fatal Swing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young boy accidentally hanged himself last night while swinging on a rope, a coroner's deputy said.

The victim was Terrance J. Robinson, 13. His mother said the boy frequently swung on the rope tied to a pipe over the back stairs of their apartment.

Pound Drops

LONDON (UPI)—The British pound slumped to one of its lowest rates since devaluation today following a statement by newspaper magnate Cecil King that the nation was "threatened with the greatest financial crisis in its history."

Shortly after the opening, the pound dropped to 2.3882-1-2 to the dollar, and stayed there through the afternoon.

It was only the second time the pound had gone below the $2.39 "barrier" since Prime Minister Harold Wilson devalued the currency last November from $2.80 to $2.40.

King, publisher of The Daily Mirror, in an editorial called on Wilson to resign, citing the lingering financial crisis in Britain.

Singer Fined

LONDON (AP) — Folk singer Julie Felix, an American girl who struck it rich in Britain as "Queen of the Protest song," pleaded guilty to drug charges today.

A magistrates court in suburban Uxbridge fined her $12 after the 29-year-old singer admitted possessing marijuana and violating currency restrictions.

Prosecutor Maurice Steele said Miss Felix, from Los Angeles, arrived in Britain four years ago and started work at $56 a week. She now earns $148,000 a year, has her own British television show, and has appeared before royalty.

Crashes In Fog

HAYWARD (AP) — A small plane crashed in fog in eastern Alameda County, killing the pilot and only occupant, Ralph Harris, 56, of Hayward.

Harris was an executive of the American Pipe and Construction Co. He had taken off around 10 a.m. yesterday from Hayward Airport for an unknown destination.

About 10 minutes later, residents of wooded Wiedemann Hill reported hearing a crash. A thick fog lifted about four hours later revealing the wreckage of the Piper Apache, officials said.

Poor People Begin Setting Up Tent City

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign, officially launched with a Mother's Day march through a riot-ripped Negro slum, now begins erecting the tent city to house some 3,000 demonstrators slowly coverging on the city.

The first 450 of the campaign's rank and file reached the nation's capital over the weekend. More are scheduled to arrive by week's end.

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain civil rights leader who conceived the campaign as a means of winning more federal help for the poor, led yesterday's march.

SOAKED BY RAIN

The demonstration, soaked by rain for most of its duration, went off without incident. Police Lt. E. J. Prete estimated the number of marchers at between 2,000 and 3,500.

Today Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, King's successor as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is to drive a stake into parkland near the Lincoln Memorial and thus signal the start of construction of shelters in what campaign leaders call Resurrection City.

The 15-acre site runs parallel to the reflecting pool between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

The Mother's Day march was sponsored by the Nationwide Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO), which sent delegations from chapters across the nation.

SEEKS REPEALS

The group seeks repeal of restrictive amendments dealing with welfare that were passed last year as part of a bill increasing Social Security benefits. Another aim of NWRO is adoption of a $4,000 minimum annual income for every American family.

Mrs. King was joined on the speaker's platform at the school by Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, wife of the New York senator and presidential aspirant, and Mrs. Harry Belafonte, wife of the Negro entertainer.

As the campaign gathered momentum it was accompanied by warnings it could lead to violence and by assurances from administration officials and demonstration leaders that order would be maintained.

Formula Backs Los Angeles Quake Prediction

PASADENA (AP)—An earthquake formula developed by a geophysicist supports scientists predicition that a large quake is overdue in the Los Angeles area.

The mathematical formula, developed by Dr. James N. Brune of the California Institute of Technology, indicates how much the earth on either side of large cracks called faults can be expected to slip laterally during an earthquake.

Brune figures the section of the fault between San Bernardino and the central coast range of mountains north of Los Angeles County may have amassed as much as 22 feet of "slip since the last major quake in 1857. A 22 - foot slip would produce a tremor potentially disastrous to a populated area, he said.

In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The British guided missile destroyer Glamorgan, billed as one of the world's most modern warships, is in San Francisco on a five-day visit.

The destroyer, which arrived yesterday, has a crew of 438. It is equipped with an automated fire control system and advanced sea-to-air armament.

Pilot Begins Ocean Trip In Tiny Plane

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—California airline pilot Miroslav Slovak took off from Glasgow today in an attempt to fly the Atlantic in what he claims is the smallest aircraft ever to attempt the crossing.

Slovak, who normally pilots Boeing 707 jets for Continental Airlines, flew off in a tiny German, glider powered by a Volkswagen engine. Its wing span is 36 feet.

The Czech - born flyer from Santa Monica flew to Stornoway Island, 200 miles northwest of Scotland in the Outer Hebrides.

From there he will fly to the Faroes then via Iceland, Greenland, Newfoundland, Labrador, Quebec, Montreal and New York, to California.

"This is not a stunt," he said. "It is not an impossible job, otherwise I wouldn't be doing it."

Slovak bought his plane in Germany for $5,500.

He said that if the weather is good he should take 90 to 95 hours to complete the 8000-mile journey.

Slovak's plane has one propeller, one tiny landing wheel and a top speed of 80 miles an hour. In its tiny fuselage, he has stored a radio, a liferaft and survival gear.

Slovak first hit the headlines in March 1953, when he escaped from Czechoslovakia by hijacking an airline and flying to Frankfurt, West Germany. He went to California and has become one of America's top hydroplane racers.

$40,000 Damage To Apartments

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — A fire caused an estimated $40,000 damage yesterday when it swept through a four unit apartment house here.

Firefighters said the blaze may have started in the attic of the building, but the exact cause was under investigation.

One fireman suffered minor injuries when he fell through the roof of the burning building. He was treated at the scene and did not require hospitalization.

There are 380,000 Indians living on reservations in the United States.

VISIT WITH CASTRO

Industrialist Hails Cuban's Leadership

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — As far as the masses are concerned, Fidel Castro's popularity "has been sustained by his opposition to our policy in Vietnam," Cyrus S. Eaton, 84-year-old Cleveland financier, said after a visit with the Cuban premier last week.

Vietnam and the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion have been used in Castro's propaganda to solidify his support with the Cuban masses, Eaton told the Plain Dealer in an interview at his Acadia Farms innearby Northfield.

Eaton said Castro "points to Vietnam as an example of what to expect from America towards a small nation that goes Communist."

In five "very crowded days" in Cuba, Eaton said, he saw children rush to shake Castro's hand and volunteer coffee tree planters applauding from trucks and buses when they sighted the bearded leader in a jeep with his Cleveland guest. Eaton spent part of two days with Castro.

Castro, Eaton claimed, "Is the complete boss of Cuba. He is a bold and clever man and he has had some phenomenal breaks, such as the Bay of Pigs and Vietnam. He is also, in my opinion, the most energetic and strenuous statesman in the world."

Eaton's dedication to coexistence between communism and capitalism has made him welcome behind the Iron Curtain and earned the apparent confidence of Soviet leaders.

His trip last week to Cuba was his first there since 1958, two years before the Castro-led revolution. He flew in a Cuban airliner from Mexico on the outward trip and returned via Nassau on Cuban and British airliners.

Long a breeder of ribbon-winning beef cattle at his Northfield farms, Eaton wanted to assess agricultural progress in Cuba. His visit was primarily for this purpose.

He reported Cuba is conducting massive artificial insemination of cattle, using a prize Canadian bull valued at $100,000. Other breeding experiments include attempts to produce sheep providing more mutton.

Cuba is getting more and more material help from U.S. allies, Eaton said. During his visit he had conversations with the ambassadors of Canada Great Britain, France and Switzerland.

Since 1948, more than 1 million persons from nearly 100 countries emigrated to Israel.

Humphrey Forces Claim Enough Votes; Nebraska Polls Tomorrow

WOOING NEBRASKANS — Sen. Eugene McCarthy, the Minnesota Democrat seeking his party's presidential nomination, shakes voters' hands during last minute campaigning in Nebraska where the next primary takes place tomorrow. (UPI Telephoto)

IN HUMPHREY TERRITORY — Amid signs for Richard Nixon, Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York greets loyal supporters at the W. W. Howes Airport in Huron, S. D. Kennedy made the Huron stop yesterday. The town is Vice President Hubert Humphrey's birthplace. (UPI Telephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's backers are claiming seven state convention victories in a row in his bid to pick up enough delegate votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

They said today Humphrey has a minimum of 169 pledged delegates after victories in Arizona, Alaska, Maryland, Delaware, Nevada, Wyoming and Hawaii where party officials say he got at least 20 of 26 delegates elected last night.

EARLIER COUNT

Humphrey's chief lieutenants —Sens. Walter F. Mondale and Fred Harris—had said earlier they think they have 1,100 of the 1,312 delegate votes needed for nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

The 1,100 figure was an estimate of delegates the backers think would vote for Humphrey, not delegates pledged by state party organizations.

The vice president also is expected to gain delegates tomorrow in the Nebraska primary where he has strong support among delegate candidates whose names are best known in the state.

But the major focus in Nebraska will be on the race between Democratic presidential rival Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, the only major announced Democratic candidates on the ballot.

McCARTHY BID

McCarthy said after Indiana's primary last week that Nebraska would offer the face-to-face contest Indiana did not because of the favorite-son candidacy of Gov. Roger D. Branigin.

Nebraska Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, a Republican, said he thinks Humphrey will get a substantial write-in vote.

Tiemann also said he expects Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon to get 70 per cent of the vote. Rival New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's supporters are seeking write-in votes and California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite-son candidate, will be on the ballot.

In another political development:

Rockefeller advisor Leonard Hall reportedly urged governors attending a Western Republican Governors session in Honolulu to withhold first convention ballot support from Nixon. Hall said he did not specifically ask the governors to refuse to back Nixon but said he believed most would "stay loose" until just before the convention.

Polls Put Rockefeller Atop List As Strongest Candidate

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York today is the strongest presidential candidate of either party, according to two of the nation's leading pollsters.

A Gallup Poll released yesterday indicated the Republican governor was more popular than former Vice President Richard Nixon but that either one could beat any of the top three Democratic presidential candidates if the election were held today.

Pollster Louis Harris, appearing on a network television show "Meet the Press"—NBC yesterday, agreed that Rockefeller is now the most popular presidential candidate. He said his latest poll showed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, an announced Democratic candidate, next in popularity.

Both Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota would do better than the third Democratic candidate, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, according to the two polls, which showed Kennedy's popularity on the decline.

Both the Harris and the Gallup polls were made this month but prior to last Tuesday's Indiana primary, in which Kennedy led the other Democratic candidates, McCarthy and favorite son Gov. Roger Branigin.

Those responding to the Gallup survey, in which 1,139 registered voters in 300 localities throughout the country were questioned, were asked to give their preference in a trial election with each of the two Republican presidential contenders being matched against each of the Democratic candidates with former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama as a third party candidate.

Newsman Is Believed Span Jumper

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Coast Guard called off its search yesterday for Raymond Christiansen, 54, a veteran San Francisco newspaperman who fell to his death from the Bay Bridge.

Christiansen's car was found at mid-span early Saturday with its lights on and the motor running. His wallet was found on the seat of the automobile.

Investigators said Christiansen, a reporter for the San Francisco Examiner for the past 22 years, was an apparent suicide. They said he had been despondent because of ill health.

Christiansen was graduated from the University of California in 1936 and worked for the San Francisco Chronicle until World War II, when he enlisted in the Army and served as a correspondent in the South Pacific. He covered the labor beat for the Examiner during the 15 years preceding his death.

SAN RAFAEL CANAL IN A LOW MOOD

Sanity Trial Scheduled For Herrera

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, who wants to defend himself against a charge of murder, will be the subject of a sanity trial, requested by his court-appointed attorney, before a Marin Superior Court jury tomorrow.

The 23-year-old El Salvador immigrant claims he is sane and innocent of a charge that he killed a San Rafael soldier Jan. 9.

Harold J. Truett, deputy public defender, requested the sanity hearing, saying there is doubt as to whether Herrera understands the nature of the murder charge and is capable of cooperating with an attorney.

Herrera, who recently learned to read, write and speak English, has said he wants to defend himself because Truett seeks to postpone the trial so that he can become acquainted with the case.

The trial will be before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Municipal Court, who is sitting in extra sessions in superior court. The trial is expected to last a week.

Sign Ordinance Study On Agenda

Changes in Mill Valley's tight sign ordinance may be coming up soon. A staff study will be presented to the city planning commission tonight on signs along the Highway 101 frontage road area which Mill Valley plans to annex.

The ordinance may be amended to reflect the different nature of the highway area from the rest of Mill Valley. The commission meets at 8 p.m. in the city council chamber.

Probation, Fine In Link To Marijuana

Mortimer C. Cooke III, 19, of San Rafael, must pay a $50 fine and reimburse Marin County for his attorney's fees for being in a place where marijuana is used.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Municipal Court, placed him on a year of probation for the offense and ordered he pay the fine and restitution for being near the narcotic weed June 3, when San Rafael police arrested him.

Planners Delay Regular Session

The Sausalito Planning Commission has postponed its next meeting a week following the city council's postponement of appointment of the new five-member commission.

Officers Nab Teens As Marijuana Suspects

Sheriff's deputies in Tiburon picked up three groups of young people during the weekend on suspicion of possessing marijuana.

At 11:30 p.m. Saturday, deputies responded to a call that several boys were fighting at Diviso and Centro West streets. They arrested Daniel M. Ligi, 19, of 31 Crane Drive, San Anselmo, and William L. Huysoon, 18, address unknown, after finding what appeared to be marijuana in the youths' car.

Ligi was released on bail of $315 and is to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court. Huysoon was held in lieu of $625 bail and was to appear today.

At 2:10 a.m. Saturday, Deputy John O. Goff reported he stopped a car containing seven teen-agers on a private road off Taylor Road and detected the aroma of marijuana.

Goff reported he found a hunting knife in a scabbard on Karl Wolfersperger, 18, of 3630 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, who tried to get rid of a metal box.

The deputy said he found what appeared to be marijuana, marijuana cigarettes, cigarette paper, a needle and syringe.

Besides another knife in the car and marijuana seeds, Goff said he found a loaded .22 caliber pistol and a 12-gauge pump shotgun.

Wolfersperger and Holladay Duncan, 18, of 530 Canal Street, Apt. 4, San Rafael, were booked at the county jail on charges of suspicion of possessing marijuana and paraphernalia, contributing to the delinquency of the five juveniles and carrying firearms without a license. Both were held on $1,250 bail each and were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

A 17-year-old Tiburon girl, a 15-year-old Larkspur boy, two Belvedere girls, 15 and 16, and a Sacramento girl, 17, were cited to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of possessing marijuana and violating the 11 p.m. curfew. The Sacramento girl was also cited as a runaway. A hunting knife was also found on the Larkspur boy, deputies said.

At 9:30 p.m. yesterday, deputies saw three Mill Valley youths standing by a car on private property on Taylor Road.

Questioning them, deputies reported they smelled marijuana on the clothing and breath of Albert H. Malone, 19, of 3 Carter Avenue and found what appeared to be a lid of marijuana and a marijuana cigarette in his clothing. Deputies also reportedly found what appeared to be marijuana in the clothing of Christopher D. Sutton, 18, of 90 Rancho Road.

Malone was booked at the county jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana. Sutton and Herbert T. Martin, 20, of 25 Alvarado Avenue, were booked on suspicion of being where narcotics were in use.

Released on their own recognizance they are to appear Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Houston's other surviving heart recipient, 47-year-old Everett C. Thomas of Phoenix, Ariz., was reported in "excellent" condition going into his 11th day with a new heart.

The National Heart Hospital in London has not released a condition report on Britain's first transplant patient, Frederick West, 45, but he was said to be in good condition. The next report on West was expected to be released sometime today.

down a counterattack in which he listed detailed charges of aggression by North Vietnam against the South but suggested a beginning should be made to scale down the war by restoring the neutralized zone between North and South and disengaging the warring forces.

He also renewed President Johnson's offer of financial and economic aid to Southeast Asia —including North Vietnam— once the war has ended.

But first he asked "what restraints you will make for your part to contribute to peace."

Meanwhile it was reported from the White House office in Austin, Tex., that Harriman had been in contact with Johnson. However, Presidential Press Secretary George Christian would make no other comment.

Christian said the president had received reports from Harriman and Cyrus Vance, also a member of the negotiating team.

In addition Christian said, presidential advisor Walt Rostow, who is at the ranch with the President, was in direct telephone contact with the Paris delegation immediately after the talks this morning.

Bel Marin Passes Water Ordinance

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service board has passed its first ordinance dealing with the waterways encroachments, according to Mrs. Joan Wrightsman, district publicity director.

The ordinance prohibits such things as docks and floats and mooring of vessels in the public waterways, she said. It was passed to assure open access to waterways under the district's jurisdiction.

The development of Montego Park will be done in stages as the board gets money, she said. Funds this year will allow the connection of the water service and land clearing on the site which is on Montego Key, Mrs. Wrightsman reported.

Novato Man, 65, Burned As Car Rolls, Catches Fire

A 65-year-old Novato man was critically injured Saturday when his car rolled over and caught fire on Highway 101 about a mile north the Highway 37 intersection.

Under intensive care today at Marin General Hospital was Raymond J. Bradley of 1112 Mirabella Avenue, who suffered head and internal injuries.

A motorist who was behind Bradley's light foreign car thought a gust of wind might have caught it. The motorist, Gary T. Meagher, 37, told the California Highway Patrol that Bradley's northbound car veered to the left, and when Bradley tried to right it, it went off the highway.

The car rolled over and into a dry drainage ditch. Meagher said it caught fire almost immediately and he pulled Bradley out.

California Highway Patrolman Louis Cantarutti said Bradley, who was treated first at Novato Hospital, told him he fell asleep. Patrolman Cantarutti said skid marks showed the wheel of Bradley's car went into the center parkway before Meagher saw him trying to straighten out the car.

Mechanic Injured In Tussle

A garage mechanic was slightly wounded in the leg Saturday during a struggle with a man he said took his jack.

The mechanic, James Pitts, 36, of San Francisco, was treated, at Marin General Hospital for a flesh wound in his right leg. San Rafael police booked Count Woodrow Vier, 54, of Santa Rosa, on suspecion of assault with a deadly weapon, petty theft and possession of firearms. His bail was set at $6,250.

Pitts works at the D and S Garage, 718 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He keeps his service truck parked in back of a liquor stole across the street. He told Patrolman Ronald Averiette that when he went to his truck to go on a call, he found Vier standing at another truck parked at the same location. Pitts told Patrolman Averiette he spotted his jack in the back of Vier's truck.

Pitts said when he took his jack, Viers told him to put it back and pulled out a pistol. Pitts said he lunged at Viers and in the struggle the gun went off. Pitts said he never saw Viers before, according to police.

Kentfield Motorist Hits Power Pole

A Kentfield motorist suffered minor injuries Saturday when he missed a curve on Evergreen Road near South Ridgeview Road in Kentfield and drove into a power pole.

Irving F. Lyons, 53, of 240 Evergreen Road was treated for a cut lip and broken teeth at Marin General Hospital. The accident happened at 1:40 a.m., according to California Highway Patrol officers.

Restaurant Plans Second Appeal On Height Of Sign

The Novato City Council will hear an appeal from a denial of a sign for Denny's restaurant when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

This is the second appeal by Harold Butler Enterprises Inc., owners of the Denny's restaurant chain. The first appeal was for a 124-square-foot sign, but the council indicated its willingness to allow 96 square feet. The 96-square-foot sign was denied by the plan review committee because Denny's wanted it 24 feet in the air and the committee would allow only 14.

Other items to come before the council include the Schuman master plan for the area west of Highway 101 at Lamont Avenue; a referal from the Marin County Planning Commission on the proposed Alameda Homes in the Black Point area; a review of the Center Road Diablo project, and naming an auditor for the annual audit of the city's books.

SAIGON EMERGING FROM SAVAGE CONG SPRING OFFENSIVE

With U. S. and South Vietnamese forces calling the Cong's spring offensive on Saigon nearly at an end, the capital city remains in a chaotic condition as these three pictures represent. At left a small Vietnamese girl holds a baby in her arms as she and other refugees flee the sacked Cholon section by cart. With fighting almost over a broken water main (center) provides an outdoor bathing facility for members of the U. S. 9th Infantry division while a man pedals a delivery wagon as a woman rides up front with a white flag to identify them as non-combatants.

Marin Fire Pumper Team Wins Contest

A fire pumper team fielded by the Marin Association of Fire Departments beat the champion Citrus Heights Fire Department from Sacramento County in a pumping contest Saturday during National Fire Service Day.

In two contests held that day, each team won one, but the Marin group turned in the best time of one minute, 12.5 seconds as compared with Citrus Heights' best effort of one minute, 14.7 seconds. The object of the contest was to pump water out of a thousand-gallon sump in the quickest time.

The two contests were held at the Red Hill Shopping Center in San Anselmo and the Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda.

Terra Linda firehouse celebrated National Fire Service Day by playing host to about 1,000 youngsters and their parents during an all day open house. Chief George A. Walser said the youngsters received soft drinks and tree rides on the fire truck and saw demonstrations of fire equipment.

Other departments throughout the county held open house.

Neck Sprained In Auto Crash

A Greenbrae woman was treated for a neck sprain at Marin General Hospital yesterday, after a two-car crash near the hospital.

The right rear of a car driven by Harriet E. Grant, 43, of 35 Corte De Sabla, was struck by one driven by Howard C. Fredericks III of Tiburon, as he tried to pass three cars stopped to make left turns, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The accident occurred at 12:20 p.m. at the intersection of Bon Air and Hidalgo Roads, officers said.

20,000 Answer Call To Active Duty Roles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 20,000 Army, Air Force and Navy Reservists and National Guardsmen—about half of them Vietnam-bound—answer President Johnson's call to active duty today.

In the Air Force Sixth Reserve Region, headquartered at Hamilton Air Force Base, two units were called up, according to Maj. Robert S. Dinger, information officer for the region.

Neither of these were from Marin County, he said.

These were the 82nd Aerial Port Squadron of six officers and 86 men called up at Travis Air Force Base, and the 86th Aerial Port Squadron of seven officers and 88 men at McChord Air Force Base, Wash.

No units at the Army Reserve Center at 27 Jordan Street, San Rafael, were affected by the callup, according to Col. Nelson B. Carey.

Neither were any units in the Marine Corps Reserve Center at 153 Madison Avenue, San Rafael, affected said Sgt. J. M. Kelly.

How long they stay in uniform will depend at least partly on the course of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks started today in Paris. They could be held on active duty for up to two years.

The course of the peace talks may also determine whether any more citizen soldiers and sailors will be called up. Pentagon officials said no decision has been reached on any further muster of reservists.

Acting on Johnson's orders, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announced April 11 that about 24,500 reservists were being ordered to active duty. They were given 30 days to arrange their affairs before putting on their uniforms.

Clifford said about 10,000 of the Reservists and Guardsmen would be sent to Vietnam to provide needed support troops and the rest would help fill out the badly depleted central force of fighting men kept in the United States for possible use worldwide.

Last week, about 1,250 Air Force and Air Guard troops were excused from active service because it was found regular Air Force units could provide the support functions the Reservists had been designated to fill.

This reduced the over-all callup total to about 23,300. Nearly 20,000 report today. They form some 87 units in 34 states.

Another 3,600 individual Reservists from the Army ready reserve manpower pool will show up for active duty starting June 15, the Pentagon said. These men will fill out the ranks of understrength units called to active duty.

The new callup brings to more than 38,000 the number of reservists and guardsmen ordered to active duty since January.

Cadillac Standard of the World

Cadillac Motor Car Division

Your new car may be the most important family decision you'll make this year.

To be sure you make the right choice, talk to your Cadillac dealer before you decide.

As a specialist in luxury motoring, your Cadillac dealer has some interesting things to say about quality and value in a new car.

The brilliant 1968 Cadillac gives him plenty to talk about. Quality abounds in the spacious, lavishly appointed interiors, in the smooth, quiet ride and in the solidity of Cadillac construction.

These Cadillac qualities are universally recognized. Year after year, Cadillac returns a greater portion of its original cost at resale than any other car built in the land. Major advancements this year, such as a totally new 472 V-8 engine (largest V-8 ever to power a production passenger car), further assure a high resale value.

There's no better time than now to talk quality and value with your Cadillac dealer. Your selection of models may never be better; your present car may never be worth more. See him before you decide.

Corte Maderan Held For Two 101 Collisions

A Corte Madera man was booked by the California Highway Patrol into the county jail yesterday for investigation of felony, drunken driving and hit-and-run driving after his car was involved in a seven-car crash and then a two-car accident on south bound Highway 101.

Three persons were injured in the multiple crash.

'DANGEROUS MANNER'

Patrolmen reported that Lloyd P. Brickman, 24, of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Apt. 204, Corte Madera, was driving in a "dangerous, erratic manner, cutting in and out of traffic, making unsafe lane changes, following too closely and speeding."

At the crest of St. Vincent Hill, Brickman's car, in an exit-only lane, swerved left at 7:40 p.m. in heavy traffic and collided with one driven by Wallace B. Hollin, 25, of Berkeley. Hollin's car then hit one driven by Abraham L. Butler, 44, of San Francisco, patrolmen said.

As drivers tried unsuccessfully to evade collisions on the curving downgrade, cars driven by George S. Shirley, 42, of Oakland; Leo F. Walsh, 54, of San Francisco; Carole K. Mason, 62, of Daly City, and Joan C. Sheldon, 36, of San Mateo, tangled.

Two passengers in the Hollin car, Donna J. Hollin, 25, of Berkeley and Mrs. Billie Hollin, 53, of Oakland, had minor injuries but told patrolmen they would see their own doctors.

FLEES SCENE

Officers reported that Brickman's car fled the scene. Five minutes later, one-half mile north of the Manuel Freitas Parkway overpass, his car struck one driven by James C. Mayer, 39, of San Francisco, and again left the scene of the accident, according to patrolmen.

Mayer told officers he tried unsuccessfully to catch up with Brickman's car. Patrolmen stopped Brickman at Franchini's Chateau, north of Lucas Valley Road and took him to Marin General Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises before being taken to jail.

While being examined at the hospital, Brickman kicked officers Larry L. Drudge in the face and Palmer W. Cunningham in the groin, they reported.

Brickman was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Another Study On Park Land

Further study of the possible acquisition of a 2.5-acre addition to the city's Sorich Ranch Park is scheduled for the 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow of the San Anselmo City Council.

The parks and recreation commission is scheduled to report to the council on caretaker needs for the Robson Park being acquired by the city.

Roger Wayne Ploff, 18, of 10 Broadview Avenue, San Rafael, and Forrest Lawrence Rankin, 20, of 138 Redwood Avenue, Fairfax, were stopped by sheriff's deputies after they had been seen tampering with the car.

After officers found hypodermic needles, a box containing a white powder, plastic tube, spoon and syringe needles in their car, they were also arrested on suspicion of possession of narcotics.

Morse Granted Leave To Fill National Job

Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, has taken a leave of absence until October to serve as president of the Humane Society of the United States.

Fred B. Kerr, president of the Marin society, said the executive committee had agreed in a meeting two weeks ago that Morse should be granted a leave.

Morse was elected to the national post in October, and first thought it would not be a fulltime job, said Kerr, but after several months it was found to require all his time. Morse has moved his family to Washington, D.C.

The Independent-Journal inquired about Morse's status because he was identified on the jacket of a book he has just published as "formerly executive director for the Marin County Humane Society." Kerr said the jacket of the book, "Ordeal of the Animals" was in error, and that Morse "definitely will come back."

While on his leave of absence, Morse will not receive his $1,200-a-month salary, Kerr said. The Washington post is paid, but Kerr said he did not know the amount.

Slain Negro's Parents Ask $2.5 Million From Oakland

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A $2.5 million damage suit was filed in U.S. District Court today against Oakland Police Chief Charles R. Gain and six other officers by the parents of Bobby James Hutton.

Hutton, 17, was killed April 6 after a gun battle between police and members of the Black Panther party in Oakland.

The parents, John D. and Dollie Mae Hutton alleged that their son became the target of police shooting "without justification or legal cause."

They asserted Hutton was fatally shot after he surrendered. Police said the shooting occurred when the young Negro began running after he had surrendered. The Alameda County Grand Jury ruled the shooting was justified.

The complaint said Hutton was "deprived of his right not to be deprived of his life without due process of law." The parents similarly were said to have been deprived of "the comfort, love, companionship and future support of their son, Bobby James Hutton, without due process."

The court was asked to grant $500,000 general damages and $2 million in punitive damages. The petition was filed by attorneys Clinton W. White and Donald Warden, both of Oakland, and Henry Ramsey Jr., Richmond.

The April 6 gun battle in Oakland left Hutton dead, two other Black Panthers and two police officers wounded. Eight members of the militant Negro group were arrested. They face trial in Alameda County Superior Court.

Marin City Man Claims Stabbing

A 42-year-old Marin City man was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after being stabbed in the back early yesterday morning.

Raymond D. Williams of 711 Drake Avenue told sheriff's officers that his girl friend, Dianna Baine, 24, of the same address, had stabbed him with a sharp instrument after an argument.

Williams said the stabbing occurred as he was getting out of a car in a parking lot in front of an apartment building. "I didn't see the knife but I sure felt it," he told deputies.

Miss Baine told deputies she had not stabbed Williams. Doctors treating Williams had asked the deputies to search for the weapon so they could ascertain the depth of the wound.

Williams was taken to the hospital by a friend.

Veteran To Head Richmond Police

RICHMOND (UPI) — A 20-year-veteran of the Richmond Police Department today was named police chief of this East Bay city of 90,000.

Robert B. Murphy, 42, was appointed to the post after scoring highest in tests given nine applicants last week.

Murphy succeeded Charles Brown, who retired after 12 years as chief. He served as Brown's chief administrative assistant.

City manager Kenneth H. Smith made the appointment.

O'Leary Urges Plan To Produce 'Think' Industry

Marin County should sponsor a program to attract tax-producing "think" industry, Donald J. O'Leary, candidate for supervisor in the Third District, said Friday night.

Speaking to about 50 Sausalito residents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor di Suvero, O'Leary said the program could induce "clean, non-polluting technical and research oriented companies to base their western operation in Marin County." Such industry "is in keeping with the character of Marin, attracts above-average income executive personnel and can contribute substantially to tax revenues needed to run the county," said O'Leary.

O'Leary will speak at coffees at 8 p.m. today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conlan, 215 Hillside Avenue, Mill Valley, and 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loomis, 8 Venus Court, Tiburon.

Youth Held As Burglary Suspect

A 19-year-old San Rafael youth arrested early today on suspicion of burglary was also cited for narcotics possession after booking officers at the county jail found suspected methedrine in his jacket pocket.

Robert Warren Holtz of 1135 Fourth Street was noticed by San Rafael police in a parking lot at Third and Lootens Streets at 1:57 a.m. today. Police said they questioned the youth because he was carrying bags of clothing.

Police said the clothing had been removed from a car belonging to William C. Ledger Jr. of Phoenix, which was parked in the lot and had been broken into.

No bail has been set for Holtz yet.

Breaks Wrist

Bessie Avery, 77, of 415 Turney Street, Sausalito, was admitted to Marin General Hospital this morning after breaking her left wrist in a fall outside her home. She was reported in fair condition.

Storer, Baar Feuding Continued By Letter

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer and his opposing candidate, Louis H. Baar, have resorted to an exchange of registered letters in a dispute over Storer's stand on a fill-and-cover garbage dump to provide land for future recreational development in Corte Madera.

A flyer on the issue from Baar's campaign headquarters drew Storer's fire at last week's board of supervisors meeting.

Then, in a registered letter, Storer complained to Baar:

"This is my fifth political campaign and nothing approaching this in unfairness has ever been used against me."

In his reply, Baar wrote: "The voters of the Fourth District and the residents of Corte Madera know well your stand regarding this issue. . . . They indeed are all well familiar with your 'if worse comes to worse let's go for broke' and Supervisor Tom Storer mentioned the power to condemn the land through the right of eminent domain.'

"Since you first ran for the board of supervisors four years ago you have been spending the majority of your time running for partisan political office and as you have stated, this is your fifth campaign in four years."

Storer wrote Baar his hope "that you will join me" in urging creation of a fair campaign practices committee. Baar replied that he would be willing to name a representative to participate in forming such a committee.

2,000 Hours Spent Doing Hospital Work

Mrs. Sebastian Tallitsch, who has compiled more than 2,000 volunteer hours at Novato General Hospital, is a nominee for Marin County's Senior Citizen of the Year.

Ms. Tallitsch, of 1840 Novato Boulevard, Novato, is a charter member of the hospital volunteers, by whom she was nominated for the award. Members are required to give two afternoons per month to help the patients of the hospital, but Mrs. Tallitsch has volunteered for extra duty since the hospital opened eight years ago.

Besides her hospital work, Mrs. Elizabeth Tallitsch, 75, also is corresponding and recording secretary with the Novato Senior Citizens.

OTHER DUTIES

She has been the secretary for the Novato Grove of Druids for the past 14 years, and belongs to the Open Door Society of the Presbyterian church in Novato, which does charitable work for the 180 patients in King Cottage at Sonoma State Hospital.

Mrs. Tallitsch is past president of the Novato Volunteer Firemens' Auxiliary and is a member of the Nova-Marin Grandmothers Club.

She was born in Chicago and grew up there. There she met and married Sebastian Tallitsch, a native of Hungary who emigrated to this country as a young man. The couple moved to Novato in 1950 when her husband retired so they could be near their daughter, Mrs. Leo Midling.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

The couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 22, 1963.

The Tallitschs have another daughter, Margo Tallitsch of San Francisco; a son, Donald Talitsch of San Mateo; a niece whom they raised, Mrs. Robert Plikuhn of Cotati; eight grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Of her work at the hospital, Mrs Tallitsch said she often thinks of stopping, but cannot.

"I enjoy the work so much, I want to go back all the time. I have met so many wonderful people there," she said.

The new Mercedes-Benz 280SE: so "over-engineered" you'll never fear a panic stop again.

The new Mercedes-Benz 280SE has a disc brake at every wheel. So do all 180-mph Grand Prix road-racing machines.

Some critics have called the new Mercedes-Benz 280SE "over-engineered." Sure, they say, a passenger car needs good brakes, but does it need brakes good enough for a racing car?

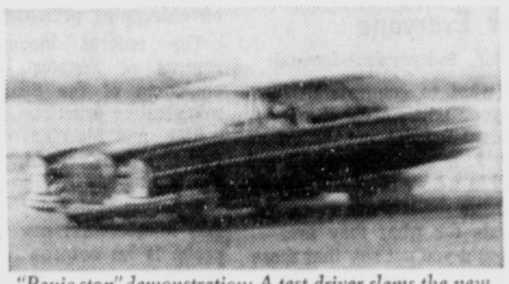
"Absolutely," say the Mercedes-Benz engineers. "Test after test has proved that disc brakes provide the most precise braking possible—at any speed. Put one wherever you have a wheel."

By conventional standards, the Mercedes-Benz 280SE is "over-engineered." And Mercedes-Benz is proud of it.

Most conventional cars have old-fashioned drum-type brakes. They're cheaper than disc brakes, and good enough for most average situations. But drum brakes can be marginal in a "panic" stop.

It takes horsepower to stop

Most people don't realize it, but it takes horsepower to stop. It's the same kind of horsepower that makes your car go, except that it's applied in the opposite direction. And, instead of being produced by the heat of gasoline burning in your engine, it comes from friction in your brakes.



"Panic stop" demonstration: A test driver slams the new Mercedes-Benz 280SE to a sure stop from 80 mph.

In a "panic" stop—real or simulated—it takes the equivalent of 321 horsepower to stop a 3,500-lb. car from 80 mph. This energy transforms the car's forward momentum into heat. And this heat must be dissipated by your brakes.

The disc brakes of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE have 421.1 square inches of effective braking area. If the 280SE had drum brakes of the same diameter, this area would be cut considerably. There would be less area to develop braking horsepower, less area to dissipate heat. Such brakes would be more prone to fading, swerving, and juddering. Drum brakes lack the feeling of authority you get with disc brakes.

Disc brakes are standard equipment

That's why Mercedes-Benz engineers insisted on disc brakes for the new 280SE. And not just on the front wheels—or as an extra-cost option—but on all 4 wheels as standard equipment.

The tremendous margin in braking performance you get with 4-wheel disc brakes is just one example of what "over-engineering" means to the owner of a Mercedes-Benz 280SE. Here are some more:

Fuel injection

Usually, your car's engine is designed either for power or economy—not both. Mercedes-Benz engineers found a way to give you the power of a V-8 and the fuel economy of a Six. It's called "fuel injection," an ingenious device that ramfeeds gasoline into the engine under high pressure. Result: horsepower is boosted by nearly 15% at no sacrifice in gas mileage.

(Technical note: The "S" in the 280SE's name stands for "Super." The "E" stands for "Einspritzmotor" or fuel-injection engine. And "280" is the size—the metric displacement—of the engine, which is 2.8 liters.)

Fuel injection also gives the 280SE excellent engine response at all engine speeds, with exceptionally smooth pick-up from low revs. The 280SE engine's overhead cam silences the fuss and clatter of conventional tappets. And its 7 main bearings give the crankshaft better support than most V-8s, for less vibration at high speeds.

10,000 body welds

Most conventional cars have a separate body and chassis, held together with bolts. After a while, the bolts can work loose. On a rough road, the rattles can be deafening.

Mercedes-Benz eliminated the rattles by eliminating the body bolts. Instead: 10,000 individual body welds. Result: a structure of immense strength and rigidity. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if your 280SE will ever rattle.

Built to be the best—not the best seller

After welding, body seams are ground down and checked with a soft glove. Any burrs are filled with pewter and polished smooth by hand.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer bath until 24 pounds of a special anti-corrosion formula have seeped into every cranny. This primer coat is baked on. The next is sprayed on. Between the last two coats, the body is hand-sanded. The final coat of enamel is hand-sprayed. There isn't any "orange peel" or other minor blemishes. The finish is as nearly perfect as the present "state of the art" allows.

(Note: Nitpickers will find nothing to carp about. A slathering of permanent plasticized undercoating fights road salt, rust and rot. The insides of the hubcaps are primer-coated after the outsides are chromed. Even the underside of the dash is fully trimmed.)

By the time your 280SE is complete, it has passed 8,117 inspections. One out of every 11 workers is an inspector to make sure that Mercedes-Benz standards are maintained.

Democracy Requires An Informed Public

In social studies classes in California high schools, students are supposed to learn about the democratic process as it functions in the United States.

One of the social studies teachers at Redwood High School is Raymond F. Kemper. He is also president of the Tamalpais District Teachers Association.

In a recent letter to the district's board of trustees — the elected body of citizens charged with operation of the district — Kemper wrote on behalf of the teachers association:

"For the past several months, the Tamalpais District Teachers Association has been an uneasy observer of a variety of events related to the operation of our school district; for example: the postponement of the bond election for badly needed construction, the frequent interruptions of an orderly process in the conduct of board meetings, and submission of information to the Independent-Journal prior to its being discussed at a public meeting of the board of trustees."

KEMPER'S LETTER resulted from a discussion he initiated at the teachers association meeting of April 2.

At that meeting, he said it seemed that "recent actions at board meetings are an attack on our superintendent. . . If the board moves into the area of direct administration, as opposed to policy making, we are in danger of losing some of the professional autonomy we have gained over the years."

He also said: "We must stand for due process and not for splashing points of view in the newspapers."

ALL OF THIS is a little surprising, coming from a high school social studies teacher.

The democratic processes, which are supposed to be explained to the high school students, are orderly processes. But they cannot operate in a vacuum.

The essence of our governmental setup — from the local school district right up to the President and Congress of the United States — is that an informed electorate chooses representatives to conduct public affairs for the good of the people.

If the electorate is not informed, the process cannot function.

Meetings might, indeed, be much more orderly if the public were never represented by people asking questions. But what, then, would happen to the democratic process?

EVERY CITIZEN of Tamalpais High School District — as of any other jurisdiction — is entitled to all the information he can get on how those he has placed in office are conducting his business. The job of the newspaper is to help him get that information.

We suspect the Tamalpais District Teachers Association is in truth worried more about "losing some of the professional autonomy we have gained over the years," as its president said at its own meeting, rather than anything that was mentioned in the letter written to the district board.

And we translate "professional autonomy" to mean being left alone to operate the schools without being questioned.

This is a desirable thing, from the teachers' standpoint. But even the best public servants need to be checked up on once in awhile. And they won't be if there is not an informed public.

Conservation—More Than Science

Conservation is a science. But it is also an ethic. Emerson wrote, "To the poet, to the philosopher, to the saint, all things are friendly and sacred, all days are holy, all men divine. For the eye is fastened on the life and slights the circumstance. Every chemical substance, every animal in its growth, teaches the unity of cause, the variety of appearance."

In this century, man has moved away from an elemental acquaintance with Nature toward an artificial, mechanical shell. We tend to assume that the computer and the generator will solve our problems. But the still, small voice within knows this is nonsense.

Thus it is that the past decade has seen a tremendous revival of interest in conservation, an almost religious rededication to the ideal of conserving what remains of our precious natural heritage.

Marinites, especially, in this beautiful county, seem to be in the vanguard of the conservation minded.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Surprise! State Thinks Milk Prices Are Perhaps Too High

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The mere fact that the state Department of Agriculture is "thinking" retail milk prices are too high in California is an indication the tentacles of the powerful milk trust are subject to a probe which eventually could benefit food budgets throughout the state.

Earl Coke, director of agriculture under Gov. Ronald Reagan, has announced that a continuing study of the economics and trade practices of the milk industry indicates reductions in minimum wholesale and retail prices are "both justified and advisable."

With this one statement, Coke makes history as far as the department of agriculture is concerned. Its actions in the past have been one long series of increases in the price of milk. These actions are legalized by the California legislature through laws enacted stifling competition in the milk industry.

"We have been concerned for some time," said Coke, "about the activities of certain segments within the milk industry. Our investigations have brought to light trade practices that we feel fail to comply with the California Milk Stabilization Act. We have been, and are, accumulating evidence so that corrective action may be taken.

Coke has scheduled a series of hearings, which are necessary under law before the department can order a change in the minimum price of milk. The first will be in Los Angeles during the week of May 20. The hearings will extend throughout the state through June.

Should the department find a penny a quart reduction is justified, consumers would pay $1,200,000 a month less than they are paying now. A two-cent reduction would mean consumers would save about $2.4 million per month in household budgets.

These savings would be accomplished without any reductions in payments by the milk trust to the dairy famers, as Coke says there is no proposal to reduce the producer price. Thus, it would appear that the d stributors, who constitute the milk trust and maintain the legislative lobby, have been pocketing what the department of agriculture regards as excessive charges.

Milk is the only food commodity which has a state-regulated price.

What Communists Really Fear

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Of course I agree with Eric W. Lane's concern with the Communists (I-J May 1, 1968). But it is not exposure that Communists fear. The one thing the Communists can't possibly stand is to have their prospective recruits put on a solid payroll or a small farm, by private enterprise.

Support Needed For Discipline

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Many of we folk of the older generations are rather appalled that rebellion against the society into which they were born is so wide-spread among our young people. They have not been made to understand that they are free to change our society, indeed they will change it as they grow up and integrate into it. Changing it by violence and rebellion instead of by evolution is something else. Rebellion is something the enemies of our society want above all else in order to destroy it. Rebellion is becoming a way of life among a distressingly large percentage of our people.

I presume we want competent teachers and conscious supervisory people. Teaching is impossible without discipline. Whether it is for law inforcement, for the military, for students or any other cooperative effort discipline cannot be enforced without some system of penalties.

We feel the Independent-Journal should give more and continuing support to the staffs of our schools. We assure the principals and the teachers of our personal support and hope other parents will become more cutspoken.

No Time To Spend, Says Fairfax Man

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I, being quite gratified, seeing our mayor, Mr. Souza's letter in your issue of Monday, April 29, which bore out my feelings as expressed in a neighborhood publication concerning the $1.3 million to be spent on Fairfax improvements, cannot but help but point out how absurd the spending of this money is at this time.

With our silver-plated dimes, quarters, and half dollars, our silver certificates withdrawn from circulation, and much of our gold held by DeGaulle, is this a time to spend?

I cannot but wonder how many of our taxpayers in favor of spending 1.3 million at this time are property owners?

I also wonder how many of our renting voters realize that if the Fairfax improvement, bond issue goes through, these unencumbered voters will find these taxes added to their rent?

It will not be many years in the future, when this will be a city and county of Marin, perhaps, as Mayor Alioto of San Francisco suggests, we will be annexed by San Francisco!

Unify our schools, fire department and police for economy, and wait a few years, a new civic center in each little town will not only be ridiculous but expensive, after the renters have moved away and only the property owners are left to pay!

'Song Of Peace' Not Too Late

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last Sunday at the Mill Valley Community Church, "A song of Peace," the words of which are copied below, was sung as the hymn of prayer, to the always-impressivee music of 'Finlandia.' Mr. Foster has had the words in his files for years, but no one seems to know the author.

"This is my song, O God of all nations,
A song of peace for lands afar, and mine;
This is my home, the country where my heart is,
Here are my hopes, my dreams, my holy shrine;
But other nearts, in other lands are beating
With hopes and dreams as true and high as mine.
My country's skies are bluer than the ocean,
And sunlight beams on clover leaf and pine.
But other lands have sunshine too, and clover,
And skies are everywhere as blue as mine.
O hear my song, thou God of all the nations,
A song of peace for their land and for mine."

These very simple words were deeply moving to me, and seemed to express what is in many of our hearts today. Even with the war not yet resolved, and suffering and injustices still going on, with violence in the headlines, something very hopeful in the hearts of people seems to be growing. Looking back to a short time ago, a mere mention of racial injustice or the horror of war would cause one to be suspected of lack of patriotism. . . .

Perhaps it is not too late; for with the emergence of a more responsible patriotism, whose Christian caring is injected with a reverence for all life everywhere, it may now be possible for us to attain Brotherhood and Peace.

Equal Rights For Everyone

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I want to congratulate you on your editorial in the Independent-Journal of Thursday, May 2. It was the best I have read in a long time. We should all have the courage to expose racists for what they are.

Would you not say that those who advance legislation favoring one race over another, in order to solicit votes, are also racists?

The time has come when equal rights must prevail, for everyone. I think all people, of good faith, will agree that we must now direct all our efforts and attention to check the extremists who would undermine the good work already done.

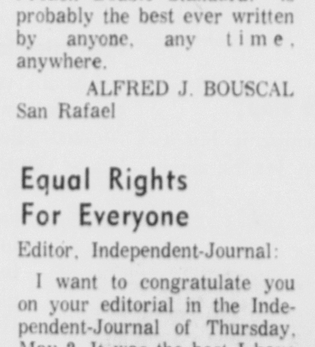
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A SINNER, trying desperately to evade jury duty, demanded to be excused from what promised to be a long drawn-out case, because he was "prejudiced." "I took one look at that fellow's miserable face, Your Honor, with his shifty eyes, and decided at once that he was guilty as hell." "Get over into that jury box immediately," snapped the judge. "That's the district attorney."



Vivian Blaine, complimented for her superb performance some years ago in "Guys and Dolls," responded ruefully, "But the years slip away — and all of a sudden you don't weigh 96 pounds any more!"

Can Kennedy Unify Democrats? Indiana Votes Indicate Otherwise

WASHINGTON — The candidate who can take the most satisfaction from the Indiana primary is the little man who wasn't there at all. George Wallace of Alabama will be on the ballot in November ready to capitalize on the broad range of uncertainty and disaffection revealed beneath the surface in last Tuesday's election.

In the 1964 Democratic primary Wallace got just under 30 per cent of the vote. He ran strongest in Gary and the industrial areas of northern Indiana where he had 45 per cent of the Democratic total. This was attributed at the time to the white backlash of the Polish, Greek, Czech and other ethnic groups in the steel towns.

That is the same percentage Robert F. Kennedy took in that area. Among Negroes he polled over 60 per cent. This was reduced by the vote of the blue-collar workers outside the core of the ghetto.

IT WAS IN Indiana's Dixie, in the southern counties voting Democratic for a century, that Kennedy's weakness as a national candidate capable of unifying his badly divided party was revealed. Even though in the last 10 days of his campaign he took a newly discovered conservative line, talking about the need for law and order and responsibility, he polled only 26 per cent of the vote in the southern counties.

It is there that Wallace can capitalize on the fear and distrust of the minorities in the cities and, above all, the Negro minority which Kennedy so solidly holds. Indiana's southern counties are a mirror not alone of the South but of the states that border the South — Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland and others with a strong Southern orientation.

THE KENNEDY victory in Indiana was needed proof that he can win in a party primary in a mixed industrial-rural state. From all the indicators he can repeat this proof in Nebraska. There the Catholic minority in the Democratic party will be significant, with the Kennedy organizing ability and the Kennedy money even more important.

Yet, assuming that this is the outcome in Nebraska tomorrow, he will still have to demonstrate that he is a national candidate wtih the capacity to pull together the diverse elements of his own party and win in November. Oregon on May 28 seems to offer the best opportunity to do that. It is a state with relatively small minorities and a wide-open nonparty political system against a background like New England in its origins. Since Kennedy money has much greater staying power than Eugene McCarthy's money, the weight in Oregon will be greater even than it was in Indiana.

THE CONTEST in the fall appears to this observer to shape up as follows: Richard Nixon is trying to nail down the safe center. He can claim a success toward this end in Indiana with his impressive total of over a half-million votes — 100,000 more than in the same primary eight years ago.

The assumption with the third man in the presidential race has been that Wallace would take most of his strength from the Republicans, denying them any hope in the South. But if Kennedy is to be the nominee, putting together the minorities in the cities to sweep the primaries, that assumption is questionable. Wallace could deny him not only the Old South but the fringe states such as Texas and Oklahoma. The Wallace margin could be disastrous for Kennedy in Indiana and Wisconsin, where four years ago the Alabama Napoleon got 30 per cent of the primary vote.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey is sitting back waiting for the movers and shakers in his party to reach just this conclusion. The movers and shakers — that is to say the party bosses, the fat cats, the bulk of the Johnson administration — will prevail and Humphrey will be nominated.

THOSE OF US who write about these matters would do well to remember the famous caucus race in "Alice in Wonderland." After all the little animals fell into the pool of tears the Dodo proposed a caucus race to dry them off. When it had gone on for half an hour or so the Dodo declared the race over. They all demanded to know who had won and for a time the Dodo was stumped. Finally he said, "Everybody has won and everybody must have prizes."

Senator's Wiretap Charges Linked To Probe Of Taxes

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service is retaliating against Sen. Edward Long's embarrassing investigation of that government agency's clandestine eavesdropping activities.

The federal income tax returns of Senator Long, chairman of the Senate administrative practices subcommittee, and his chief counsel, Bernard Fensterwald, are being audited by IRS agents.

Congressional aides of Long and Fensterwald say the tax probe is an outgrowth of the senator's subcommittee inquiry. IRS officials claim that the audit is routine.

In headline-making hearings last year, Senator Long exposed IRS bugging of more than 23 conference rooms in which tax agents were interviewing taxpayers whose returns were being challenged.

Information in the subcommittee's files shows that the recordings of several of the conversations of taxpayers and agents were used in their inquiries and preparation of tax cases.

THE SENATE SELECT committee on standards and conduct, which is probing Long's law practice to determine if there is any conflict of interest with his official duties, has so far found nothing wrong.

Headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., the subcommittee recently quizzed more than a dozen of the senator's law clients about fees they paid Long and a law firm to which he belongs.

The unpublicized hearing was held in a plush motel about five blocks from the capitol.

SENATOR LONG, who faces a stiff bid for re-election, is expected, if victorious in November, to launch a series of sensational probes of bugging and wiretapping in the Johnson adminstration.

High on the list of these inquiries will be a look at the "secret electronics eavesdropping laboratory" in a suite of offices formerly occupied by John Reilly, deputy assistant secretary of state for security.

Reilly is now employed by the Federal Communications Commission, having left the State Department after a Senate committee accused him of lying.

ACCORDING TO information already gathered by the Senate internal security subcommittee, this secret "bugging office" was used by high State Department and Central Intelligence officials to carry out "systematic eavesdropping" on other officials and newspaper correspondents during both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Every telephone in the State Department building, according to an administration insider, can be monitored from the secret room by the simple device of crossing the panel wires located in strategic sectors of the building.

'Bigotry' Charge Easy To Make— Be Careful Where It's Directed

It's easy enough for a member of a minority race like me to sit back and take pot shots at "the Establishment" for being "bigots."

But before we start tossing epithets, we ought to make sure they are being hurled at individuals who deserve them, not at all whites, all blacks or all Orientals, just because they belong to the same race as the individual targets of our displeasure.

Strong language is sometimes used in the current criticism of county officials for the lack of progress in the War on Poverty.

For shock effect, words like "racists" and "bigots" might be employed by those impatient with the slow pace of social reform. But if anyone honestly feels that Marin County officials are bigoted, they are dead wrong.

AS WE'VE SAID before, members of the board of supervisors and most other county officials are quite sensitive to the needs of the poor and disadvantaged. Admittedly, they are not always aware of the specific problems or specific solutions. For that, they must and do listen to those who are directly involved with the problems of the disadvantaged.

For open-mindedness and the willingness to hear the other side, I'd stack Marin officials with the best of them.

When public funds are being requested for Headstart, Children's Centers, or for any other program, the supervisors are justified in asking where the funds are going and how they are to be spent. To label them as "bigots" for exercising care in appropriating public funds is grossly unfair.

THIS TYPE OF talk will probably prompt some people to label me as a member of the Establishment. But I am beholden to no county or city official.

And I certainly did not belong to "the Establishment" when all Japanese-Americans in California (including native born citizens) were sent to concentration camps in the Arizona desert after Pearl Harbor.

From behind the barbed wire fence in the desert, it would have been easy to blame all Americans, white and black, for being "bigots." But this would have been illogical.

You couldn't blame the then individual supervisors in your home county of Fresno, or the neighboring farmer in your home town of Selma, or the shipyard worker in Marinship for putting you behind barbed wire in Arizona.

When they finally let you come back to California to pick up where you left off four years before, and you found individuals willing to stick their necks out to help you as an individual human being, you realized that humanitarianism or bigotry is a matter of the individual, not of race.

AS SEVERAL members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors pointed out, the important task in the county today is to find jobs for the unemployed and ways for them to stay on the job.

A diploma or a degree is no guarantee that you will advance to the top of the heap, or that you will even keep the job, regardless of race. If you don't perform, you don't stay on the job. And for the minority races, that task is more difficult because there are always a few who will discriminate. This is just a fact of life.

As long as the community is trying to place the unemployed in jobs and trying to find ways to keep them in the jobs, those efforts should be encouraged. And once the job is found, no matter how measly it may be, some of the responsibility shifts to the worker to make an honest effort to perform.

What constitutes "honest effort" is another question, which probably varies with the individual. More about this some other time.

Liberal Czechs Show No Knuckling Signs

PRAGUE (AP) — The liberal leadership of Czechoslovakia's Communist Party shows no signs of knuckling under to pressure from the Soviet Union, Poland and East Germany.

The party presidum is expected to meet this week and add momentum to the campaign to break away from the Kremlin's domination.

It is no secret here that pressure has been exerted by Moscow and other Soviet bloc members disturbed by Czechoslovakia's trend toward independence. But there is no sign of panic among Prague's government and party leaders.

Alarm over rumors of threatened Soviet military intervention was generated abroad, not in Czechoslovakia. But apparently there was a strong enough hint of military pressure from Moscow to give the Czechoslovaks a picture of what could happen if Prague carries its independence movement too far.

Informed sources say Soviet troop movements on the Polish-Czechoslovak border last week, in the form of "staff maneuvers" of Warsaw Pact forces, were not big enough to threaten any military action. But they were sufficient to get the message across; the sources say.

There is also resentment over the fact that Czechoslovakia has a trade deficit with the West but a surplus with the Soviet Union. It is no secret that the Russians owe the Czechoslovaks money, but no one in authority will say how much.

There is growing warmth toward the United States.

Test Tube Baby Status Checked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 2,500-member Lawyers Club of San Francisco has proposed legislation to establish the legitimacy of children conceived through artificial insemination.

Club vice president Leroy Hersh said yesterday a resolution to that effect would be presented to the governors of the State Bar of California in San Diego in October.

Hersh said the present law is not clear as to the status of test tube babies. An addition to the law would remove all doubt.

Mothers Of America, Unite!

Candidates Are Soft On Issues

WASHINGTON — With Mother's Day coming up on Sunday, it seemed a good time to find out what the presidential candidates' policies were on motherhood in the United States.

I first checked at Hubert Humphrey headquarters:

"Vice President Hubert Humphrey supports the same motherhood policies of President Johnson," a Humphrey spokesman informed me. "Although there are no easy solutions to motherhood, he will remind the voters that President Johnson has done more for mothers in the last administration than all the other 35 presidents put together. Mothers now have better hospital benefits, educational facilities, welfare payments and Social Security advantages than ever before.

"Under the Johnson-Humphrey administration, mothers are happier than ever and Humphrey believes that a happy mother is a good mother, a responsible mother and a mother who will thrive in a Great Society. He feels those candidates who would use the mother issue to divide America can only hurt the Democratic party."

I THANKED HIM very much and went over to Bobby Kennedy headquarters, where I was turned over to the chairman of the Mothers for Kennedy, a subdivision of the Parents for Kennedy, which is a subdivision of the Families for Kennedy, which is under the Kennedys for Kennedy department.

"I think Bobby Kennedy's record on motherhood speaks for itself," said the chairman. "At the same time, the senator believes that a lot more must be done for mothers, not only for the rich mothers, but the underprivileged mothers and the disenfranchised mothers, and the mothers of twins and triplets as well as the mothers of farmers and factory workers and fruit pickers and college students. Did I leave anybody out?"

"You forgot the mothers of politicians."

"Yes, the mothers of businessmen, too. In order to give mothers everything they so richly deserve, it will take new, inspiring leadership."

AT SENATOR McCarthy's headquarters, a spokesman said:

"Senator McCarthy was the first one to speak out for mothers when he went as a lonely candidate into New Hampshire without money ,friends or support. When McCarthy proved that President Johnson was vulnerable on the mother question, Bobby Kennedy tried to take the issue away from him. The Kennedy forces have been pouring in millions of dollars trying to win mothers away from McCarthy. But the college kids who have been supporting Senator McCarthy are hep and they knew it takes more than money to become a mother."

AT NIXON headquarters, a Nixon volunteer said, "Richard Nixon believes there should be a moratorium declared by all candidates on motherhood at this time. The subject is too delicate to discuss while negotiations are going on.

"Before solving the problems of mothers, we have to get our financial house in order," he continued.

"We cannot make promises to mothers that we cannot keep. At the same time, Nixon believes more must be done for mothers, mainly through private enterprise."

AT GOVERNOR Rockefeller's headquarters, the receptionist said that Rockefeller was still working on a paper outlining his views on motherhood. She refused to say where the governor stood at this time, but indicated that Rockefeller would take a moderate approach somewhere between Nixon's hard line on mothers and Bobby Kennedy's radical approach to the issue.

Senate's Version Of Reagan Giant Budget Near Test

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The mighty Senate Finance Committee is in its final stages of labor with Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposed $5.7 billion state budget for the coming fiscal year.

After weeks of struggling with the largest spending bill any state has seen, the committee members report their task is nearing an end and their version of the budget may reach the full Senate this week.

"We're through with our work. All that remains is the mechanical putting together," said Democratic Chairman George Miller Jr. of Martinez.

The budget Reagan submitted Feb. 5 for the year starting July 1 calls for spending 7.1 per cent higher than that estimated for this year. This increase, Reagan says, is mostly to take care of growth in a state whose population is expected to hit 20 million this year.

The committee has been going over the budget bill line-by-line, paying particular attention to Reagan s economies in controversial areas such as higher education and Medi-Cal.

The governor proposes a University of California budget of $280 million in contract to $311 million the U.C. regents are asking. And Reagan allocates $224 million to the state colleges whose trustees request $249 million.

For the state's medical aid program for the poor, Reagan calls for spending $336 million, while fiscal experts say that with the present range of services, costs could easily mount to $406 million.

Kuchel Sees Civil Unrest, Society Link

NEWPORT BEACH (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel told California law officers today that the nation's civil turmoil and attacks on police "symbolize not your failure, but the deeper failures of our society."

It is up to both policemen and society in general to correct problems that lead to riots, while at the same time maintaining law and order, Kuchel declared.

BEGINS TOUR

His remarks were prepared for the 48th annual conference of the California Peace Officers Association, as the senior California senator set off a four-day bus tour of Southern California.

Kuchel, assistant Republican leader in the senate, is emphasizing his leadership position and experience in the tour of the voter-rich Southland. His start came in Orange County, which in past elections has provided strong support for Kuchel's main June 4 GOP primary opponent, state schools chief Max Rafferty.

The lengthy bus tour, which will range from the desert town of Brawley to populous San Diego, was a sign that the 57-year-old Kuhel is encountering his toughest foe in the outspoken state superintendent of public instruction.

SYMBOL OF SOCIETY

Kuchel told the law officers that many of their troubles in recent years come because "the policeman is a symbol of a society from which many disadvantaged Americans are increasingly alienated."

But police alone cannot change society and must enforce the law as they find it, the senator said. Instead, he added, "it is of critical importance that society, of which each of us is a part, take every possible step to act against the injustice, the misunderstanding and the turmoil that exist in our land."

Kuchel reminded the law officials that "The vast majority of our people have the same hopes... They seek to perpetuate and to exalt the liberties that are ours under the Constitution. A handful of disrupters, violators and irrationals seek to undo our accomplishments and to destroy the dream. They will fail. They must fail."

A DRAMATIC MOMENT

To Study Parks

A committee to develop a three-year plan for the city's parks and municipal golf course is to be appointed when the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission meets at 8 p.m. today in the board room of the city library.

Hillside Picnic Follows Ceremony

The hillside above the Novato Presbyterian Church was the setting Saturday for the unusual wedding ceremony of Kathleen Croughan and Joel August.

THE NEWLYWEDS leave the altar, which was placed under a canopy decorated with wildflowers. The bride chose a pants-dress with organza ruffles trimming the legs and her bridegroom wore an Edwardian cut suit. The attendants carried wildflower bouquets.

Kathleen, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Croughan, was given in marriage by her father, who then conducted the wedding. The couple exchanged their wedding vows under a canopy covered in white and decorated with wildflowers.

The bride wore a straight-cut pants dress in a modified paisley pattern of white on white with organza ruffles trimming the legs. Maid of honor was her sister Shelley and bridesmaids were Marjorie Bergendoff of Kansas City and the bridegroom's sister, Heidi August of San Francisco.

Best man was Raymond Shonholtz of Berkeley and ushers were Sumner Stone of San Francisco, Duv Weiner of Stanford, Steve Yafa of Los Angeles and Jack and Timothy Croughan.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex August of San Francisco, was attired in an Edwardian cut suit.

The reception was held under the huge oak tree on the church property as the guests were served fried chicken, homemade bread and jelly, potato salad and homemade ice cream at the old fashioned picnic.

The couple are on a wedding trip to Mendocino and will reside in Berkeley.

Kathleen was graduated from Novato High School and attended college. She is taking graduate work at the University of California. She is the sister of Jack, Timothy, Shelley, Mary and Matthew Croughan.

The bridegroom was graduated from high school in Tucson and attended Dartmouth College. He served with the Peace Corps for two years in Ecuador and is in his second year of law school at George Washington University. He will take his last year of law at Boalt Hall.

Bon Voyage Party For Dewings

By MOLLY MARIN

The Andrew S. Dewings of Kent Woodlands (she is concert pianist Janet Graham) were honored Saturday evening at a champagne bon voyage party hosted by Mrs. B. McRae Dyson, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Boyle and Clark R. Fullerton, all of San Rafael.

The party held at Mr. Fullerton's apartment was attended by some 50 guests.

The Dewings are leaving this week for Europe, where they will spend five months engaged in activities centering around her interests in music and his in art. Living in their home will be their friend, Miss Hannah More Frazer, a Red Cross executive who has just returned from three years' residence in France and Italy.

The Dewings will sail on May 21 and go first to Ravello above Amalfi, then pick up a car in Rome, where they will see Janet's cousin, the commentator Winston Burdett.

A highlight in the Val d'Aosta area will be going through the new Courmayeur Tunnel recently opened under Mont Blanc, and in Aosta they will see Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sonza — she is the American daughter of Mrs. Virginia Yarbrough of San Rafael.

SPENDING A few days at Lake Tahoe and Virginia City, Nev., were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dickson of Novato. While they were on vacation Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Whiting and Mrs. J. J. Johnston, relatives from Seattle, Wash., stayed with their youngsters, Craig, Chris, Cathy and John.

A SUMMER in Europe is planned by Anne Bastian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere. Anne, who is completing her sophomore year at Radcliffe, and a classmate, Virginia Ridgely of Providence, R.I., leave in June for two months in England, where they will make their headquarters in Kensington. In mid-summer they will tour the continent, returning just in time to enroll at the college at Cambridge, Mass., for the fall semester.

BACK IN Belvedere after a month-long trip to the Orient are Mr. and Mrs. Irving Harris.

MRS. WILLIAM Meyer of Bolinas was honored at a baby shower and luncheon May 3 at the home of Mrs. Walter Bajor in Mill Valley. One unusual gift was a handmade quilt, designed by artist Sam Daijogo and stitched by Mrs. Daijogo of Tiburon.

IF YOU ARE planning a trip to Hawaii in the near future, say the Robert L. Schultzes of Mill Valley, who have just returned from there, don't fail to stay over night, if possible, at Volcano House five miles from the rim of Kilauea, which has been erupting since November.

At night it is an unforgettable experience, they say. If that is not possible, the drive in the daytime some 30 miles from Hilo to the rim is worth while.

The Schultzes left on April 19 with Mrs. Schultz's mother, Mrs. Walfred Knutson of Patterson, and spent most of their time driving around the four major islands in a rented car.

The high point of the trip for them was the privilege of visiting the Wilcox family's extensive plantation home, one of the oldest and largest plantations in the islands. The visit was made possible through one of Thelma's Mills College former classmates, who is employed there as librarian for the estate's library, which contains one of the largest collections of historical material on Hawaii. They were interested in talking to Miss Mabel Wilcox.

They didn't have much time for rest on the beaches but did manage to do some swimming and skin diving on Maui and went to Maunakea.

One especially beautiful sight was the forests of Oahi trees that seemed to grow out of the volcanic rock. They were in full bloom with spectacular red blossoms.

Before returning home the Schultzes stopped in Honolulu, where Thelma had a reunion party at their hotel for a number of former Mills College classmates and alumnae.

Poor Samantha Needs Love, Room And Board

Samantha, a cat with a social history whose adventures have been recorded in several I-J stories, is in the news again.

Once more she needs a home.

Back in 1966 the short haired orange and white kitten needed a home when her owner was unable to find one for her because of her gender and the expenses of an operation and shots.

Then a benefactor, Mrs. Stewart Bostwick of Mill Valley, and some friends had a brilliant idea. They donated five good prizes for a raffle to provide funds that would make Samantha more attractive as a pet.

After she kept her date with the vet she found a good home and was guest of honor at a tea, where her new owner exhibited her for the first time to her benefactors. The purpose of the tea was to distribute the prizes to the winners of the raffle prizes among the group of Mill Valley cat lovers who had bought tickets.

Now Samantha's owner, Mrs. George Wellington of Mill Valley is moving to England, and once again the cat, now an attractive, mature little lady, needs a home that her benefactors want to be sure is a good one.

Anyone interested in applying for the privilege of being Samantha's new owner may call Mrs. Wellington or Mrs. Bostwick.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mother Sits In Daughter's Room, Describes It Mess And All

DEAR HELEN:

I'm sitting in my 13-year-old daughter's room. I want to describe it to you.

Her shoes are on the dresser, her school clothes hang over the door, her slip is on the floor. Magazines are thrown everywhere. Crumpled-up paper, the same. Dirty clothes shoved under the bed; well-chewed gum stuck on the bedposts. The bed unmade; dust everywhere.

Perhaps all kids this age are slobs, so I try to be patient. But when I ask her to clean up, she sasses back. She even took up smoking and tells me to clean up the ashes she drops.

Helen, child psychology books say she is too old for a spanking. Reasoning doesn't help. Am I terrible to consider — REACHING FOR THE PADDLE?

DEAR REACHING:

Don't just reach — use that paddle! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

In your column recently, "M.K." draws a profile of her mother who has a very tragic drinking problem. You indicated that an alcoholic can't be helped until she admits she needs it and suggested that the girl get her mother to a doctor the next time she is sick from a hangover, so that, hopefully, he will made her face facts and accept treatment.

May I refer you to our National Council on Alcoholism, 2 East 103rd Street, New York, N.Y., 10029, or to the local affiliate, who will supply information and hope to "M.I.?" I feel your response may have been unnecessarily pessimistic.

Formerly, it was thought that the alcoholic had to hit bottom on his own. We now know that help can be given through constructive coercion and creating a crisis. While it is true that the most effective treatment for the disease of alcoholism is realized when the patient is acceptant, it is also true that positive response can often be achieved when initial treatment cannot be classed as voluntary.

I also feel that a referral to Al-Anon or Alateen would be helpful. The national address of these groups is: P.M. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y., 10010. Information concerning local meetings may be had by calling Alcoholics Anonymous, listed in the telephone book. — DOROTHY GRIFFIN, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INFORMATION, CHICAGO COUNCIL ON ALCOHOLISM

DEAR HELEN:

Can anything be done to free two "boys," ages 35 and 37, from an over-possessive mother? The boys are my cousins, but I have not seen them for ten years. They never leave the house. One is supposed to have a physical ailment which keeps him from working, and the other a nervous condition. Though both were well educated.

The mother works for them, washes, cooks, cleans, shops for them, takes their clothes to the cleaners. She does everything but digest their food for them.

The boys' father walked out on the family when they were very young. The mother felt deep resentement at the other woman. She brought her sons up to think marriage was a trap and all women are evil.

Any attempt to change this situation was met with a tirade, and so the family gradually left these strange people alone. But I'm wondering what will happen to her "boys" when they are freed by her death? Is there any hope that she may change her views? — P.C.

DEAR P:

I doubt that anyone can change your aunt's views at this late date, and I question whether the "boys" could take freedom, for it's quite apparent they aren't capable of functioning on their own. Perhaps their mother is more protective than possessive.

Why don't you members make a visit and find out the true situation? Seems to me your interest is about ten years overdue.—H.

James is a graduate of Sunnyslope High School in Tucson and the University of Arizona. He is employed by Control Data in Palo Alto.

Men's Collars

The longer-point collars are coming back in style for men. This means a possible revival of the collar pins, a neat look always favored by many well-dressed men, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear Inc. reports.

Baby Lotions

More and more Moms are discovering that keeping their own skin baby soft and smooth is as easy as borrowing baby's oil, powder, cream, lotion and petroleum jelly. The oil whisks away makeup with ease. The powder after bath or shower keeps Mom cool and fresh through busiest days.

Presidents Assembly Elects Mrs. C. T. Kett

MRS. CONRAD KETT

Parliamentary law and work with the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs have been the most recent concerns of Mrs. Conrad T. Kett of Sausalito, who is the new president of the Presidents Assembly of Marin.

Mrs. Kett became a member of the assembly, composed of past presidents of Marin women's clubs, when she completed the year as 1965-66 president of the Sausalito Woman's Club. Before that she had been that club's treasurer and financial secretary.

She is the current president of Lambda Unit of the California State Association of Parliamentarians, and for the past two years has been fellowship chairman for the Golden Gate District.

Mrs. Kett believes knowledge of parliamentary procedures is so important that it should be taught in high school. In her club work she says she has observed great laxness and resulting confusion in business meetings. A course in such procedures should be a must for all presidents-elect, she feels.

Born in Calaveras County during the gold rush, when her father was a mining engineer, Laura was graduated from Dominican Upper School and attended Santa Rosa Junior College, the University of California and Dominican College. Because of her father's connection with mining she has been active many years in the Northern California branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers.

After the death of her husband, an architect, she became president of Kett Brothers, Inc., which she managed with her brother-in-law for two years.

She obtained a general contractor's license and did some building of her own, which she remembers as the most hectic period of her life.

Mrs. Kett has lived in Marin — Mill Valley and Sausalito — most of the time since 1930.

Miss Jacobs Engaged To M. L. Beatie

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobs of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Jacobs, to Michael Lauren Beatie of Ross.

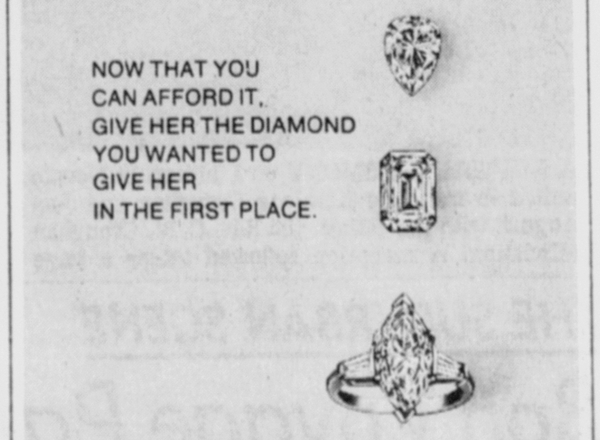
He is the son of Mrs. Walter C. Beatie and the late Capt. Walter C. Beatie of Ross.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, the bride attended the College of Marin and is employed as an assistant buyer at I. Magnin's in San Francisco.

Michael was graduated from Redwood High School and attended the College of Marin. He is a member of the Bachelors of San Francisco. He is employed by Norman McCarvill of Vancouver, B.C., as the captain of the yacht "Spirit." He has been racing extensively, and is now on the East Coast preparing the yacht for participation in the Bermuda and Transatlantic races.

The couple plans to meet in Germany after the Transatlantic races, when definite wedding plans will be announced.

SUZANNE JACOBS



Most of us start small.
And although the diamond ring we buy may stretch the budget at the time, it's usually not what we really would like for her.
So, now that you have a better home, car, wardrobe, how about an important diamond.
If she's the sentimental type, we can set the new diamond in her original mounting. If she isn't, our mounting selection is excellent.
Either way, this diamond is for now.

MOVED BY WHAT one of them terms "a tragic and scary situation," five Sausalito women have stepped forward in the classic American tradition to fight for their community.

Adding together some 144 years of residence in Sausalito, Mesdames Robert Crowell, John Ehlen, Loren Jay, John Koenig and James Smith have a deep concern for Sausalito's future and that of its school children. They include a former teacher and P-TA leaders.

Naming themselves "Concerned Citizens FOR the Sausalito School Tax," they have called a meeting at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Jay home, 88 Central Avenue, to which they have invited a large group of their contemporaries.

Their special effort is to reach Sausalito women who do not now have children in school, and who thus may not be fully informed about the current school crisis.

The are dedicating themselves to helping to pass the tax rate proposed on the June 4 ballot.

"I am appalled to know people won't vote enough money to educate children," declared Mrs. Koenig, who in 1926 was founding president of the Sausalito Parent-Teacher Association, when her eldest child was ready to start school.

The women agreed they had arrived at their conclusions separately, and had gravitated together in what they view as a crisis.

"No single one of us pushed it," said Mrs. Ehlen. "We were all thinking the same things, and we got together, and now we're trying to share what we know."

Marinite Wed In Missouri

In an evening ceremony May 4 at Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church Pamela Hartschen of Independence, Mo., became the bride of Theodore Lowry of San Rafael.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ida Middlemas of Independence, and is a graduate of East High School in Kansas City, Mo.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Barbara Nisser of Kansas City, Mo., and serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Steven Lowry of San Rafael.

After the wedding a reception was given at the home of Theodore's sister, Mrs. William Young of Santa Venetia. The couple will make their home in Chula Vista after a wedding trip to Independence.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Norma Lowry of San Rafael and the late Kenneth Lowry. A graduate of Terra Linda High School, he is serving with the U. S. Navy at the amphibious base in Coronado. Theodore is also the brother of Susan Lowry of San Rafael and the grandson of Edwin Grant of San Francisco.

SMART SHOPPER

Investigate Before You Enroll In A School

This is the time many high school seniors are thinking about enrolling in a business or technical school. Basic rules of smart shopping apply to this investment, just as they do to any other.

"Investigate before you invest." "Read before you sign." Do comparative shopping—are the things to remember.

Education is one of the most important investments we make, and it is expensive. So it pays to be prudent.

It's bad enough if a student finds himself signed, sealed and delivered to a school he doesn't like or which does not offer the training he wants. It's even worse if he finds he has committed himself to paying the total tuition whether or not he completes the course.

But it's worst of all, if after having paid his money and finished the training, he finds the "hundreds of jobs" which the salesman who sold him the course or the advertising mentioned are not part of the contract.

So students who are in the know investigate these things before they enroll. Not even a special price inducement for signing the contract "today" justifies skipping a single one of these steps.

Visit the school, if possible, before you decide to buy the course. Talk with the faculty and determine their qualifications. Check the facilities. Are they adequate for the training you want? Talk with students. How do they feel about the instruction they are getting?

Find out the policy of the school regarding tuition, time payments, refunds or cancellation of contracts if for any reason you do not complete the course. Some schools offer only a contract for the entire course with no provision whatever for refunds or cancellation. If you sign a contract of this kind you are legally liable for the full amount of the tuition, whether or not you complete the work.

Other schools make it possible to enroll for a single semester, and some offer a month-to-month contract. Be careful about signing any contract until you know exactly what you are agreeing to pay.

About jobs, schools cannot guarantee jobs to students. The best they can do is maintain a placement service.

In the end, however, each student must sell himself to an employer. So, it is good practice to talk to employers before you decide on a training course. Find out whether the course you are contemplating will qualify you for the job you want and how much demand there really is for workers in this particular line.

Talk to your high school teachers and counsellors. They can help you make the right choice in this important investment.

Painting

When painting, don't make the mistake of overdressing a surface with too many coats. For the original paint job, most surfaces require a primer plus two finish coats. Although two coats usually are necessary when repainting over old, very thin paint, one coat often is sufficient when repainting a surface in good condition.

Hadassah Elects Mrs. Walter Fink

Mrs. Walter Fink of Greenbrae will be installed president of the Marin Chapter of Hadassah tomorrow at a fashion show and luncheon at the Inn Marin Restaurant.

The Finks have lived in Marin for 10 years. They have a son, Mitchell.

The new president is a sports car enthusiast. She enjoys auto races and driving her Corvette Sting Ray. Her other hobbies are tennis, swimming and the stock market.

MRS. WALTER FINK

Other officers to be installed are Mesdames Bertram Rude, membership; Paul Winton, education; Stanley Feingold, program; Sidney Rudy, fund raising; Fred Wellen, organization and leadership; Frederick Brodell, treasurer; Irwin Taranto, corresponding secretary; Hyman Fischer, financial secretary; and Clare Harris, recording secretary.

Lines Drawn For Battle Over Private Vs. City Rec Programs

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Are you thinking of taking up judo in San Rafael this year, or dancing, or the guitar?

Coping with a new-found interest may be difficult enough, but it is nothing compared to the skirmish that is brewing over who should teach you — the city's recreation department or private enterprise.

Lines are being drawn for the battle expected to explode at hearings into the parks and recreation department budget scheduled by the city council this month on a date to be set.

On one side are some private instructors miffed at having the money they pay the city in taxes used by the city to create what they believe is competition.

Appointed their most vocal advocate is Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who has told fellow council members repeatedly the recreation program appears to transgress into the realm of private business.

Ironically, opposing forces being marshalled to fight any proposed cutback in the recreation program may include several of the private interests Jensen says he represents.

In interviews with the Independent-Journal, a judo instructor and a guitar teacher, both operating privately, went so far as to praise the efforts of the recreation department.

Several proprietors of dancing academies and figure salons were less enthusiastic, but few would admit they suffered a drop in business because of the adult and teen-age night classes. All wished to remain anonymous.

One figure salon operator said she definitely felt the classes were hurting her business.

"I fired one girl because she was stupid and she ended up by teaching slimastics," she said. "Unless the instructors know what they're doing, a person can hurt themselves."

The San Rafael guitar teacher said: "My feelings is that the city's recreational classes in guitar stimulate interest and I have had students here who started out by being introduced to the instrument at that level.

"Personally, I have enough to offer and am not afraid of any competition from the recreation department or anyone else. The only damage a program like this can do is if they get an instructor who is not competent."

In its spring program, the city is offering seven youth activities, eight for teen-agers and 11 for adults.

Among the "controversial" items are classes in modern ballet, guitar, slim trim, yoga, dog obedience training and judo.

Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of parks and recreation, said the program was expanded this year to include special interests because of a growing demand.

Unless there were sufficient people to make the special interest groups self-supporting, they were dropped. Piano instruction was one of the courses eliminated from the 1968 program.

The majority of the classes are for beginners, he said, with a few going to intermediate level if the demand is there.

"I shall be able to meet with the council and go over the questions of costs of the program of activities and show the needs and how the money has been spent," he said. He was confident there would be a minimum of cutbacks.

The recreation program got unexpected support at the last meeting of the city council from George S. Burton, an auto salesman and successful candidate for city council last year.

He read a seven-page statemen calling on members to review the competition threat with the businesses involved.

"It could be that the merchant himself cannot see the woods for the trees. If he has any imagination at all and is willing to really get out and sell his product, he'll one day thank the city and its people, rather than filing an unjust claim," he said.

Councilman Jensen responded: "We should not compete with private interests and people who have large investments in their business." He said he had received a number of complaints from private businessmen.

Elsewhere in Marin, San Anselmo Park and Recreation Director Frank Quinn said he had selected courses that were "purely recreational," adding: "It is not the job of the city to compete with the downtown area."

At the College of Marin, Dr. Eugene Farrar, assistant dean of evening classes, said it was impossible for any city or school district running a recreational program not to compete with private enterprise at some time or another.

"It's sometimes questionable just where the line can be drawn between a school district and private colleges and vocational and private schools. It's something which has to be played by ear," he said.

He said he was inclined to drop a "marginal" course should he receive pressure from private business. He would refuse starting any of the large number of courses suggested by individuals annually if private enterprise could best fill the bill.

Back in San Rafael, Charles Tacchi, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, was noncommittal on the question of competition in the classroom.

"If the council urges us to trim the budget for 1969, then we shall do it," he said. "Personally, I have received no complaints from private interests nor, do I believe, has the department."

Narcotics Term To Check Passer

John Edward Greison, 26, of San Rafael, who cashed a $150 bad check while on work furlough from jail during a forgery sentence, was committed to the state prison system Friday as a drug addict.

Judge Harold J. Haley ordered that Greison be committed at a state institution until he is cured of his addiction.

They were among teams from 21 Bay Area schools who were given 1968 Plymouths and told to find out why the cars weren't running properly.

Supervisors Set To Meet As Transit Board On Bills

Marin supervisors face a handful of decisions tomorrow which could effect the outcome of the June 4 election.

The board will first meet as the Marin County Transit District to discuss several bills that would change the administration of the Golden Gate Bridge. One measure would abolish the bridge and highway district and create a San Francisco to Marin Transit District.

The supervisors also will decide whether the Marin Economic Opportunity Council should continue to run the War on Poverty or whether the county should increase its role.

A proposal by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker for a balanced transportation program will be discussed, along with a proposal by Supervisor Chairman Ernest N. Ketenhofen, who is seeking re-election, to place on the November ballot an advisory poll on whether voters favor an annual 5-cent tax to create a public park acquisition fund.

Both traffic and poverty have been important issues in the campaigns in the three supervisorial campaigns.

The supervisors also will meet with heads of county departments during tomorrow's busy agenda. The supervisors will begin at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Audubon Field Trip

The Marin Audubon Society will conduct a field trip at 9 a.m. May 25 from the Point Reyes Bird Observatory on Mesa Road in Bolinas. Persons taking the field trip should bring lunch and binoculars.

FIVE INJURED IN EARLY MORNING FREEWAY ACCIDENT

California Highway Patrolman Edward McClintick and rescuers (left picture) work to remove Mrs. Alice H. Rybicki, 62, of 137 Suffield Avenue, San Anselmo, from car which ran off Highway 101 and overturned at 12:20 a.m. about one-mile south of Hamilton Air Force Base. In the middle picture, Dan White of Doctors Ambulance carries Mrs. Rybicki on a stretcher as tow truck driver, Tony Valim, helps with flashlight. Freed after being trapped for several minutes, Mrs. Rybicki (right picture) is readied for moving to Marin General Hospital, where she was reported in fair condition today with a back injury. The driver, Mrs. Marie P. Cain, 41, of San Francisco, was treated for bruises of her right knee and chest. Her three daughters also were treated at the hospital: Catherine, 15, for bruised fingers; Carol, 14, for a cut right leg, and Barbara, 11, for a bruised left knee. Youth Says Deputy Jabbed Him With Pruning Shears

A Sausalito youth today accused a deputy sheriff of jabbing him in the face with pruning shears during an argument at Stinson Beach last Wednesday.

The deputy, Richard Russell, who lives on Laurel Avenue near Stinson Beach, said he was working in his garden with hedge clippers at the time but denied there was any physical contact.

The incident came to light in a claim for damages filed with the Marin County Board of Supervisors by Joel Wyatt, 16, and his mother, Eve Byron Wyatt, both of 107 Cloudview Road.

Wyatt seeks $5,000 general damages and $1,000 for medical and hospital care.

The claim alleges that the youth was assaulted and beaten and his automobile keys and driver's license taken from him, all without justification.

According to Sgt. Robert Bertrand, who has the West Marin beat for the sheriff's office, this is the account given by Deputy Russell:

It was Russel's day off, and he heard considerable commotion on the beach near his home. He went to investigate and found an unoccupied car parked near his home, with keys in the ignition. Since he wanted to talk to the driver, Russell took the keys and Wyatt's driver's license from a billfold in the car, then left a note telling the owner of the care where the keys and license could be picked up.

When young Wyatt came to his home, Russell said he was clipping his hedges. He said an argument started, but "there was no physical contact at any time."

The claim will come before the board of supervisors tomorrow. The supervisors normally refer them to the county's inrefkgumhem to the county's insurance carrier.

Thief Takes Medicine, Television

Billy M. Clark of Bolinas Road told sheriff's officers that someone had pried open a door in his home while he was gone Friday and taken a record player, television, cameras, liquor and men's jewelry.

The burglar had also removed a pillow case from a bed which he apparently used to carry the smaller articles.

Among the medicines removed from the bathroom were tranquillizers, pain pills and asthma remedies.

Another burglary reported Saturday to the sheriff's office was at the home of Dr. G. Thomas Evans Jr. of Lagunitas, who said that a lock had been jimmied in his home and a number of articles taken.

Missing were stereo equipment, a microscope, guitar, television set, two portable radios and a telephoto lens for a camera.

Judge Views Separate Trials In Marin Slayings

Only one of two men accused of a San Rafael double murder may go on trial for his life in Marin Superior Court tomorrow.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson was to rule this afternoon on a request that he sever the cases of Kenneth Allen Preston and Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, the Santa Rosa motorcyclists accused of the rape, strangulation, stabbing and shooting deaths of Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their Santa Venetia house trailer Jan. 12.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the cases had to be separated because of a Supreme Court ruling which makes out of court statements by one man inadmissable as evidence against his co-defendant.

Garbage Disposal Manager Says Split Over Policies

The parting of the ways between Dino Lucchesi and the West Marin-San Geronimo Valley Garbage Disposal Service two weeks ago was not the result of a spring fever whim but, rather the result of a protracted disagreement over management policies, Lucchesi said today.

Lucchesi, who dropped out of sight after he quit as company manager on April 26, he had warned the company's owner, Mrs. Frank Andronis of Fairfield, on April 22 that he would quit unless the financial affairs of the company were straightened out.

When he did quit, garbage service to the 1,500 homes in West Marin stopped for four days until Mrs. Andronis reorganized the company.

However, Lucchesi said, he did not leave full garbage trucks on the streets nor did he disconnect the company telephone.

"The phone was disconnected because the company hadn't paid its bill," he said. "The only telephone I had disconnected was my own private number at home."

As for the trucks: "I told the boys (two employees) to empty and wash out the trucks before they quit work Friday (April 26). The trucks are always parked on the streets but they were empty."

That same day, the two employees took the company keys to Mrs. Andronis' daughter and told her that he had quit, Lucchesi said.

Mothers Of 158 Inmates Pay Visits

At San Quentin yesterday, 158 prisoners had breakfast with their mothers for the first time since they entered the prison's gates. The occasion was Mother's Day.

The mothers who came from all over California and some other states, shared a breakfast of fruit juice, eggs, bacon, hash browns and coffee in the south dining hall after attending church service at the prison chapels.

On their way to and from breakfast the mothers and sons walked through the main yard where over 2,000 other convicts watched in silence. The convicts and mothers also walked in the chapel garden and visited in the prison's interview rooms before the last mother left at 3 p.m.

Everyone "behaved beautifully," Dr. Homer Hastings, prison duty officer, said today. In the past the prison officials have prohibited special Mother's Day celebrations. Mothers coming to visit their sons had to be content with being near their sons during chapel services and visiting with them in the special interview rooms.

Mayors Fail To Show For Vote

The mayors of Marin's 11 cities failed to show up this morning at the Civic Center to elect a city representative to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board of directors.

Since nobody showed up, County Clerk George H. Gnoss said he would send a letter to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, asking the council to name a successor to Arthur W. Smith, whose term expires on May 31. Smith is no longer a city councilman.

Marin's other representative to the air pollution board is Supervisor William A. Gnoss, who has been reappointed to another four-year term.

$1,900 Looting Of Mill Valley Home

A burglar took loot valued at a total of $1,900 Friday from the Kimberly M. Young residence, 451 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley police reported today.

The burglar, entering through an unlocked door, ransacked the house and took four jewelry boxes, a tape recorder, two cameras, a phonograph, a record changer and other furnishings. The stolen items included a carved meerschaum pipe valued at $200, a jade pendant valued at $200 and an amber necklace valued at $200.

Hepp Deplores Tax Escalation Hippie Problem

Tax escalation and the hippie influx are "two great waves cresting over the Marin homeowner," Carl Hepp, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Third District, said Saturday night.

He spoke at a coffee for him at the home of Mrs. Gladys Bleyle of Mill Valley.

A recent court order that residency requirements for welfare recipients be removed could bring a huge increase in hippie visitors this summer, overloading Marin's parks and health facilities, said Hepp.

Firm enforcement of laws already on the books is one way to control the hippie problem, he declared. "Before adding more parks or attracting more tourism to Marin, we must protect the quality of what we have," said Hepp.

Homeowners Will Air Dog Problems

A special board meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday by the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Association directors at the home of its president, Richard D. Roberts at 244 Montego Key, Novato, to deal with a dog problem, according to Mrs. John Wrightsman, publicity chairman.

A petition bearing 36 names of homeowners in the areas was given Roberts. It asked that the association do something about the problem of dogs that run in packs up and down the street, she said.

Water Skis Cause Collision

According to the California Highway Patrol, the skis fell out of a boat being trailed behind a car driven by Carlyle Sobel, 42, of San Francisco, at 3:30 p.m., south of the off-ramp to the McGraw Hill Book Co. in Novato.

Behind Sobel, Darrell T. Porter, 30, of Sunnyside, Wash., stopped his car suddenly and it was struck in the rear by one driven by Loran R. Harper, 46, of Richmond. Harper's wife, Phyllis, 45, was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Sobel was cited for spilling skis on the freeway.

Youth Arrested As Drug Suspect

A 19-year-old Kentfield youth was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana and carrying a hidden weapon after police noticed him jumping out at cars and making obnoxious gestures while hitchhiking in San Rafael Saturday afternoon.

Tim Charles Maisak of 925 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was stopped for questioning by police while he and a friend were hitchhiking on Bayview Street near D Street.

Police said they found a hunting knife in a sheath concealed on the youth and a suspected marijuana cigarette.

Maisak was booked at the county jail and bail set at $500.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

JUDGES WEST

South, the sort of player who navigated by the seat of his pants, won the first trick with the ace of spades and "judged" that West was sure to be short in clubs because he was obviously long in spades. Wasting no time, South led a club to dummy's ace and returned the jack of clubs for a finesse.

The move was spectacular, but not for its success. West took the queen of clubs and six spade tricks. While the defenders scored 600 points South explained to his partner that he had really made the "correct" play.

"Very unlucky," North said as he pushed the cards to West for the next deal. Actually, luck had nothing to do with it. South should make the slam by using X-ray eyes.

SHOULD COUNT HAND

To begin with, South should refuse the first trick. West continues with a second spade, and East's diamond (or heart) discard makes it clear that West started with exactly seven spades.

Before touching the clubs South takes his three winners in hearts and diamonds. Since West discards a spade on the third heart and another spade on the third diamond, South discovers that West started with exactly two cards in each red suit.

11 CARDS

This accoounts for only 11 cards, which means that West must have exactly two clubs.

Armed with this information, declarer takes the ace and king of clubs. He wins one spade, three hearts, three diamonds and five clubs, scoring 1,640 points instead of losing 600 points.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♦ 8 7 5 4 2
♣ 7 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You cannot be sure of making two hearts, but you will probably win more tricks at hearts than your partner could at no trump.

Hippie Prepares To Sleep Warm

A neighbor reported at 1:38 p.m. that a hippie was leaving the rear of 113 Prospect Drive carrying a sleeping bag. The resident, Alice M. Coburn, told police $25 in cash had also been stolen.

The hippie got away.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, May 13, the 134th day of 1968 with 232 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1607 English colonists landed near the James River in Virginia to establish the first permanent British settlement in the new world—Jamestown.

In 1846 the United States declared war on Mexico.

In 1940 Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Princess Juliana arrived in England after fleeing Nazi invaders of the Netherlands.

A thought for the day: Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Nature and books belong to the eyes that see them."

Symbols For Stars In Order Of Brightness

Summer Will Bring A Brighter Jupiter

By SCIENCE SERVICE

A welcome astronomical event occurs Friday, June 21, at 1:13 a.m., PST. The sun reaches its farthest north position in the sky, which marks the beginning of summer in the northern hemisphere. The sun will then be directly over a point on the Tropic of Cancer near the shore of the Persian Gulf.

Shining brilliantly in the southwest, the planet Jupiter is conspicuous on June evenings. It is in the constellation of Leo, the lion, close to the star Regulus, passing directly north of it the night of June 8. One of the brightest stars, Regulus ranks as first magnitude, but it is only about a fourteenth as bright as the planet.

The accompanying map shows the sky as it looks about 11 p.m., local daylight saving time, June 1, and 10 p.m. on the 15th. It would look about the same at 9 at the month's end. However, at that time, in our part of the world, the sky will be too bright to see the stars.

Eight of those shown are first magnitude but some, including Regulus, are dimmed because they are low in the sky. This causes increased absorption of their light by the atmosphere.

Overhead stands Bootes, the herdsman, with Arcturus, fourth brightest star visible from our latitude. Toward the northwest is the Big Dipper, in Ursa Major, the great bear. A line through the "pointers," Merak and Dubhe, followed to the right, takes you to Polaris, the pole star.

This is in Ursa Major, the little bear. Some of the stars form the Little Dipper, which is harder to identify than its larger counterpart. Frequently you can see no more of it than Polaris and the two stars at the top, called "the guardians of the pole."

The plant Saturn appears late on June nights. It rises in the east about three hours ahead of the sun, in Pisces, the fishes. Mercury, Venus and Mars are now in the same direction of the sun, and we cannot see them.

June marks the centenary of the birth of one of our greatest astronomers — the man responsible for several of the world's largest telescopes. He was George Ellery Hale, born in Chicago, June 29, 1868.

As a boy he was interested in astronomy and his wealthy father provided him with excellent equipment. Finally, adjacent to their home, he built the Kenwood Observatory, equipped with a 12-inch telescope — one of quite respectable size.

It was here that he discovered the magnetic fields associated with spots on the sun and, at the age of 23, invented the spectroheliograph. This device, used in connection with a telescope, photographs the sun in the light of a single color, rather than the mixture of colors from red to violet that make up ordinary sunlight. It has been a powerful tool for solar research.

But Hale did much more than perform valuable research himself. He organized several important establishments where many scientists have continued to advance the frontiers of knowledge. And he did all this despite many periods of illness.

After the University of Chicago was established in the early 90's Hale was chosen to plan and direct their astronomical research center. This was the Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., which opened in 1897. He moved the Kenwood telescope there, but the main instrument is a huge telescope with a lens 40 inches in diameter. Seventy years later, it is still the largest of its kind in the world.

With his great interest in the sun, he went to California in 1903 to establish the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory for the Carnegie Institution of Washington on a mountaintop near Pasadena. When their activities expanded to other objects than the sun, the word "solar" was dropped from the title.

In 1917 the 100-inch telescope was completed at Mount Wilson and for more than 30 years it remained the world's largest. This is a reflector. A concave mirror more than eight feet in diameter forms the primary image, rather than a lens, as in the 40-inch at Yerkes.

With this powerful instrument have come many great advances in astronomy but Hale still sought "more light." He wanted to study objects even fainter and more distant than those the 100-inch could reach.

So, in the late 20's, he began to promote and plan a giant 200-inch reflector, with a mirror twice the diameter of the 100-inch. Delayed by World War II and unforeseen difficulties in casting the blank for the big mirror, as well as other factors, it was finally completed in 1948, 10 years after Hale died.

Still the world's largest, this Hale telescope, as it was appropriately named, has yielded much of our current knowledge about the universe. Operated by the California Institute of Technology (in whose establishment Hale also had an important part) it is located on Mount Palomar in Southern California. Its work is closely coordinated with that of Mount Wilson; in fact, the two observatories have one director. They are known now as the Mount Wilson and Palomar Observatories.

In a few years a telescope nearing completion in Russia will be the largest, but the 100-inch and 200-inch reflectors, as well as the 40-inch reflector at Yerkes, will continue performing their important tasks. And they will be a continuous memorial to the man who demonstrated so effectively to the world what great telescopes can do.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Reckless Driver Held A Criminal

Barney Bluestreak lived on a winding hill road with one very sharp curve. One day he took the turn too fast. Crossing over the dividing line, he ran head on into a car. Both drivers were injured, and the other one died later.

When Barney got well, he was accused and convicted of manslaughter. Barney was over the double line and his skidmarks showed he had been speeding.

Sometimes, of course, an emergency may justify crossing over a line. But Barney had no justification at all.

The court said that Barney was driving with "gross negligence." Reckless, speedy driving, lack of care for other drivers or pedestrians, are acts of gross negligence. For this the court may send the driver to prison.

Besides, a driver may have committed a felony when the accident occurred. Drunk driving or reckless driving can be a felony if some one is injured. A death arising out of those actions may amount to manslaughter.

A person who is so reckless that he ignores human safety can be charged with murder. Thus driving at high speeds on a crowded street, going at reckless speeds on a foggy, crowded highway, may be criminal negligence.

The court may call the killing "willful." Such acts are so flagrant that they may amount to "malice aforethought." The person causing a death under those circumstances may have to face a murder charge.

Even if there is no person killed there may be a criminal charge.

In addition to criminal sanctions, the Motor Vehicle Department, without court action, can suspend drivers' licenses where reckless or drunken driving is involved. Suspension or revocation of a license, though brought by a state agency, is a civil, not a criminal action. The loss of a driver's license can cause serious financial loss.

Bolinas Harbor Board Orders Lagoon Mapping

The Bolinas Harbor District Board has authorized a contract with R. M. Towill Co. of San Francisco for photogrametric mapping of Bolinas Lagoon, to be conducted Thursday at a cost of $13,700.

Half the cost will be paid by Marin County. The board, meeting Saturday, also approved a change in its agreement with the county to allow the district to spend up to $7,000 for its half of the mapping. The limit had been $6,000.

The aerial photography will be coordinated with an extensive study planned for Wednesday through Friday by the U.S. Geological Survey and a study of the bottom of Bolinas Bay on Thursday and Friday.

The board announced that navigation into the lagoon will be limited Wednesday evening and all day Thursday and Friday by a cable stretched across the channel mouth for the survey.

The cable will be lowered to let boats through, but the board has asked that passage be scheduled on the hour if possible to minimize interference with the study.

Unemployment Checks Reach Low In April

Unemployment insurance benefit payments for April in Marin County dropped to 970 per week, the lowest number since April, 1964, the California Employment Service has announced.

The total compared favorably with the 1,095 payments in March and 1,350 payments per week in April, 1967. In April, 420 persons were placed in jobs as compared with 265 in March, the service said.

Vallecito School Is Burglarized

A burglar broke into Vallecito School, 15 Nova Albion Way, Friday and stole several musical instruments, a tape recorder valued at $280, two stereophonic speakers valued at $70 and a headset valued at $48, San Rafael police reported.

Inventory had not been taken of the missing instruments, but they included a bassoon, several flutes and a piccolo.

The thief used a rock to smash several small windows to enter different parts of the school.

Barrier Ordered

The state Department of Public Works has awarded a $127,822 contract to J. F. Shea Co., Inc., of Redding to replace a cable-link barrier with a more rugged double metal beam barrier along a 2.2 mile section of the Highway 101 median between the Route 131 exit and 1.5 miles south of Corte Madera Creek.

Burglars Take Ring; Eat, Sleep

Burglars believed to be juveniles entered the home of Harriet Meyer, 17 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, eating and apparently sleeping there before stealing a $200 woman's ring.

Police said today that entry during the weekend was via an unlocked bedroom window. Food was taken from the kitchen, they said, and there was evidence of newspapers having been burned in the fireplace and a bed used.

The ring was taken from a bedroom. The burglary was reported yesterday when the victim returned home.

Seminary Collecting Negro History Items

A collection of source material in Negro history, designated as a memorial to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has been established at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The growing collection includes antislavery pamphlets from pre-Civil War days and publications of modern civil rights groups. A program from Dr. King's funeral, donated by a seminary student, William E. Thomas, who attended the funeral, is also in the collection.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Drug Addicts Pose Increasing Problem With Dread Tetanus

VAN DELLEN

Tetanus (lockjaw) is becoming a problem among drug addicts. Dirty needles and lack of immunity make them susceptible, and 90 per cent die because they enter the hospital with full-blown tetanus.

Treatment costs are staggering at this stage because only heroic measures offer the slightiest chance for recovery. The least users could do is obtain prophylactic shots in institutions and agencies with which they make contact.

SINCE MOST drug addicts live in larger cities, we expect this new form of tetanus to be an urban problem.

According to Dr. Charles E. Cherubin, of Metropolitan hospital, 114 cases were reported in New York City over a 12-year span; of these, three-quarters were addicts. In Chicago, one-half of the fatalities are drug users.

The injection of contaminated material beneath the skin is an ideal medium for the growth of tetanus organisms that manufacture a deadly toxin. Dirty puncture wounds cause the highest mortality in nonaddicts, also.

VICTIMS OF lockjaw are irritable, restless, and have difficulty swallowing. The muscles of the mouth go into spasm which interferes with the opening of the jaw. As the disease progresses, stiffness and rigidity of the neck, back, abdomen, and extremities become more severe and ultimately the person can no longer breathe.

The heroic aspects of treatment include anesthesia to relax the muscles, surgery to open the windpipe, along with continuous mechanical respiratory assistance.

BASIC IMMUNIZATION involves the initial shot, followed by another in 4 to 6 weeks and, still another at the end of the year. A booster is given every six years unless the individual sustains an injury. The cut or wound is thoroughly cleansed and a booster dose is given.

A more complicated program is needed for individuals not previously immunized.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

FATIGUE, CORONARY

Mrs. R. writes: Several years ago my 41-year-old son had a heart attack. He still feels tired every afternoon. Does this fatigue ever disappear?

REPLY

Yes, but it might be a blessing in disguise, especially if your son's activities will permit him to take a 30-minute nap every afternoon. The tiredness may be an emotional reaction to the heart attack, or the medications he is taking may be responsible.

DESSERT LATER

E. A. B. writes: I can eat a good dinner but like to have dessert and coffe an hour or two later. My mother doesn't approve of this arrangement. Do you see anything wrong with it?

REPLY

No, but why disrupt family harmony over such a trivial matter as dessert and coffee? When you are lady of the house, you can make the rules.

BARREL CHEST

A reader writes: What is a barrel chest?

REPLY

Enlargement of the chest in which the thickness from front to back approximates that from side to side. The condition usually is associated with emphysema, a lung disorder in which the air sacs are dilated and the bronchi narrowed.

PREGNANCY TEST

O. S. writes: Can pregnancy be detected by a urine test only?

REPLY

Only in the early stages. Later, clews are obtained through examination and appearance.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Only 10 Years Old And A Singing Pro

By RICK DU BROW

On May 22, Janie Gee will open in the main room of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas with NBC-TV's Danny Thomas. The next night she will appear on the television show of the same network's Dean Martin.

Janie Gee is 10 years old.

And the story of her career thus far is colorful and eye-opening even by Hollywood standards.

The most important person to her success, for instance, is a former pilot who flew for an American civilian operation in Vietnam, and had nothing to do with show business until he heard Janie sing in a Saigon club one night.

"I was in this theatre-restaurant," says the ex-pilot, Lou Testa, who now is Janie's business manager. "She was seven years old then. I heard her sing and I blew my mind.

"Her name then was Baby Jane. She had on a white ballerina-style dress. And she sang songs like 'What Now, My Love?' and 'From Here to Eternity' and rock and roll. I talked to her mother right away."

And since then, Janie's future has been his concern.

"I found out," he said, "that she had been working since she was four. When she was four, she entered a singing contest in Manila (she is from the Philippines) and won it.

"After that, she was picked up by radio and television. When she was five, offers started coming in, and she began touring. There were no age laws where she played. And right before I saw her, she had been in Hong Kong."

Between the ages of seven and nine, says Testa, Janie toured military bases and hospitals, and did USO shows. And her voice was developing.

Last August, in a Saigon hotel room, with a Vietnamese band, he had Janie cut a tape of her music. He took it home, listened and decided she was ready for the United States. He quit his job and brought her over in September.

Testa got to Hollywood about a week before Janie and her mother, and, as he says, "I knew nobody in this town." But he met a few people—and he sent copies of the tape around.

Tam, Redwood Win Track-Field Honors

By GARY TISCHLER

That choppy Saturday afternoon in mid spring when they hold the 1968 Marin County Athletic League track and field championships is getting to be the time that the Tamalpais Indians soothe their frayed, season-long track frustrations.

The Indians, who have lost the dual-meet title to Redwood by aching hair-breaths for the past two seasons won the team title for the second year in a row, while a disarrayed Giant team slipped to second.

Tamalpais also grabbed the frosh team honors easily while Redwood, as expected, took the Class B crown.

The meet, coupled with the qualifications Thursday, was a personal triumph for quite a few people, especially Terra Linda hurdler Lowell Harris.

Harris qualified in the 120 high hurdles in a record 14.5 Thursday, came back with a 14.6 Saturday, then skimmed a second off the 180 low hurdles by winning in 19.5 late in the afternoon Saturday.

Those two marks by Harris were the only varsity records to fall, although a pack of Class B and frosh records tumbled.

Tamalpais won both relay events in the varsity, including an exciting 440 which saw Luther Brown zoom away in high gear, giving the Indians a tough lead that sprint star Allan Lee held against a tremendous surge by San Rafael sophomore Bob Peterson.

ij Sports

Lee won both sprints, taking the 100 in 9.9, after breaking out of the pack easily in the last 20 yards. He topped runnerup Peterson in both events.

There were several surprises, oddities and great efforts in the meet.

The biggest shocks came in the high jump, pole vault and two-mile.

The high jump was won by a lanky, red-haired Redwood leaper named Andy McIlroy, who bested Floyd Jackson of Tam on fewer misses at the 5-7 level. The winning jump was 5-8, after both McIlroy and Jackson missed three times at 5-9. Not even around at the finish was Redwood's Bob Ballou, who had shared the county best jump of 6-0 with Jackson during the regular season.

In the two-mile, up-and-down Darrel Walton of Novato won in 9:58.0, but Terra Linda's Bob Bunnel, who set a MCAL record of 9:41.1 in besting Walton in last year's meet, dropped all the way to third, behind Walton and Redwood's Tom Worth.

In the pole vault, Mark Molica of Drake and Mark Jones of Terra Linda tied at 12-6, while Rick Ehrhart of Drake, who had held the season-best leap of 12-9, dropped to fourth at 12 feet.

In a mile left wide open by the absence of Indian Randy Harness and Redwood's Wayne Horiuchi, a black-stockinged, grinning, shaggy haired Jeff Cochran of Terra Linda grabbed the win in the last dogged yards, beating Don Makela of Novato, who simply and suddenly ran out of gas.

In the lower echelons of Class B and frosh divisions, 15 records were set, nine in the frosh division, six in Class B. Six of the records were set in the trials.

They were: Dennis Silva, San Rafael and Rocky Penka, Tamalpais, 10.0 in the high hurdles, Jeff Moss, Tamalpais, 2:10.3 in the 880, Paul Crovo, San Rafael, 10.9 in the 100 for the frosh, Bill Challander

49ers' Coach Sounds Tough Enough To Win

Maybe he's just whistling past the graveyard, but the new head coach of the San Francisco 49ers sounds tough enough and wise enough to whip that perennial patsy into a genuine title contender.

Fans who have seen the National Football League team's new promotional movie, "A View of Tomorrow," seem to enjoy Coach Dick Nolan's narration.

The successor to Jack "You're Fired" Christiansen says, "I've developed the habit of winning. I don't want to lose it. Football is a game of precise violence . . . of calculated fury." How eloquent.

Nolan, who has a five-year contract in which to prove himself, comes to the 49ers from Dallas where he coached the Cowboys' defense during the past two championship seasons.

A Few Of His Observations

"We must be ruthlessly efficient.

"We must press for opportunities to gain control. Blocking means control.

"My aim is to field a team that will make the breaks.

"Position by position, the 49ers have the ingredients to be a winning team. If we develop a winning attitude, the 49ers will be contenders.

"The greatest pass defense is the pass rush.

"The game is a test of character.

"A halfback must have speed and quickness, the ability to strike. He must be aggressive.

"A linebacker must be as strong and tough as a lineman and as agile and fast as a back. He must have a sixth sense to put him where the ball is."

Good Opinion Of George Mira

Fans of George Mira, unhappy second stringer to quarterback John Brodie, will be happy to hear Nolan's opinion of the former benchwarmer: "Mira at 5-10 and 190 pounds is lots of football player. He figures he has three and one-half seconds to pass. If he does not, he's not afraid to run with the ball."

I get the opinion that Mira will be the No. 1 quarterback from now on, although Nolan insists the job is wide open for Brodie and third stringer, Steve Spurrier.

Any group that would like to see the 49er film should contact Dave Scofield at William Timmer Realty, San Rafael.

Giants Return For Home Stand

To Open Series With Astros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Don't envey the Houston Astros.

The Astros, who beat the San Francisco Giants three out of four games recently in the Astrodome, must face them in windy Candlestick Park tomorrow night in the opener of a three-game series.

The Giants, idle today, have had the upper hand this season the second time they face a team.

Cincinnati took a two-game series from the Giants in their first meeting of the year and then was beaten two in a row in the return series, before the Reds finally edged the Giants 3-1 yesterday.

Left-hander Ray Sadecki, now 4-3, lost his first game to the Reds as a Giant.

They got to him in the eighth after Willie Mays' had given the Giants a 1-0 lead in the seventh with his sixth homer of the season and the 570th of his career.

Leo Cardenas led off the eighth with a single, only the Reds' fourth hit, and went to third on a pinch single by Chico Ruiz.

Ron Hunt made a diving stop of Pete Rose's bouncer and forced Ruiz at second as Cardenas scored the tying run.

Ted Abernathy checked the Giants in the ninth, enabling the Reds to snap a five-game losing streak.

Campy Runs, A's Triumph

OAKLAND (AP— Bert Campaneris of the Oakland A's thinks the Chicago White Sox are mad at him.

Campaneris, who scored two runs and stole two bases against Chicago in the 6-2 Oakland victory yesterday, was hit on the shoulder by a pitch from White Sox reliever Don McMahon in the sixth inning, and Hoyt Wilhelm sailed a pitch over Camp's head in the eighth.

CHARGE

"I think (Eddie) Stanky told them to throw at me," Campy charged. "He was mad because I knocked the ball out of the catcher's hand."

Campaneris scored the first run of the game on a hard slide that jolted the ball away from White Sox catcher Duane Josephson.

Campaneris was thrown out on a third attempt to steal. He has 14 so far this season and that rate would finish the season with about 75.

"All I want to do is steal more bases than I did last year," he said. He set a club record with 55 thefts in 1967 and has led the American League in each of the last three years.

STANDOUT

Third baseman Sal Bando also was a standout for the A's. He collected three hits and drove in two runs.

"We had a meeting before the game and the manager told us not to swing so hard," said Bando. He said to just meet the ball and not try to hit it out of the park.

"I cut down on my swing and it really made a difference."

The six runs were the most the A's have scored this season at Oakland Coliseum. Their 11 hits tied the home high.

Left-hander Tony Pierce was the winner, and Manager Bob Kennedy promised Pierce would start more often. Pierce was a last-minute replacement for John Odom, who had a sore shoulder.

HUNTER NEXT

The A's have today off before opening a seven-game road trip at Minnesota tomorrow night. Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 3-2, makes his first start since pitching his perfect game Wednesday night at Oakland against the same team.

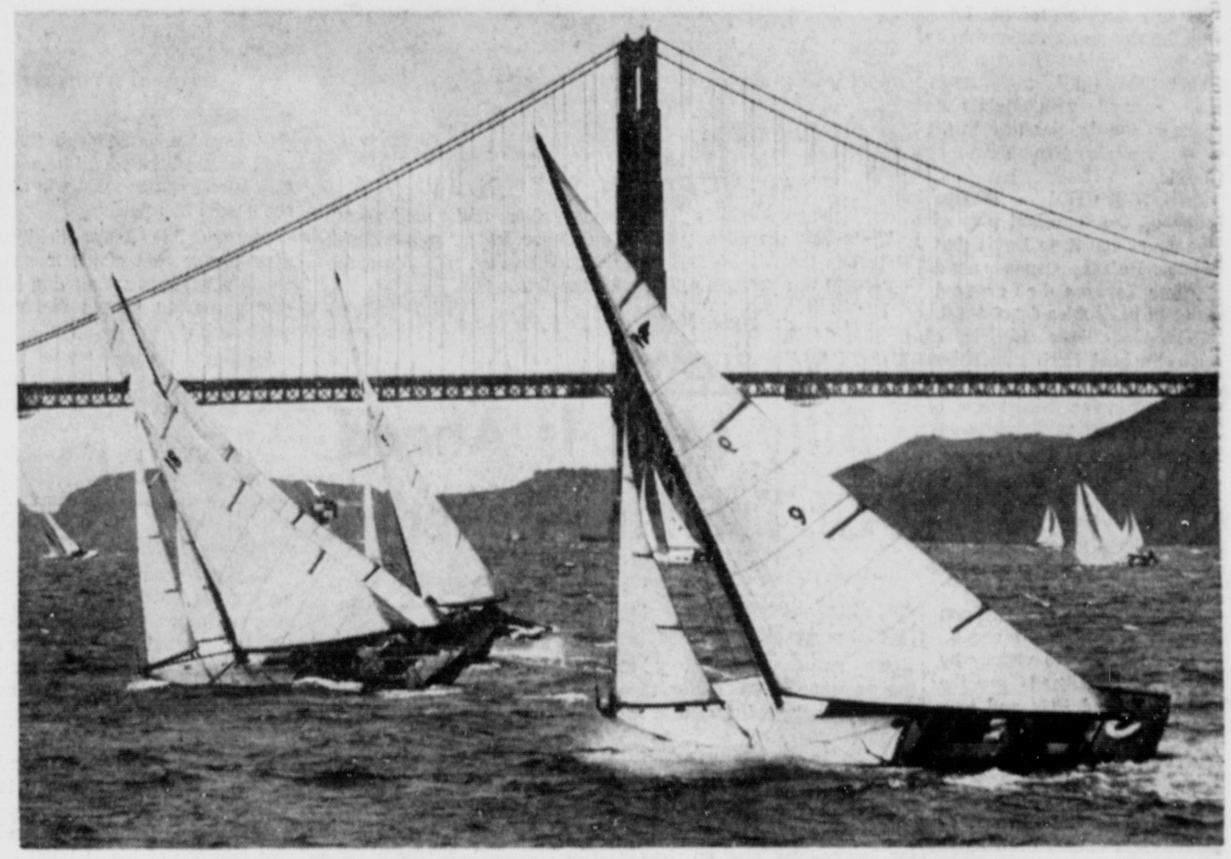
The A's spotted Chicago a first inning run and then moved ahead to stay with two unearned uns in the bottom of the first.

TAM NETTER GIVES MARIN TENNIS TITLE

Andy Moffat of Tamalpais High School won the singles championship of the North Coast Section Tennis Tournament yesterday, the second year in a row a Marin County Athletic League player has won. Mark Vance of Drake won last year.

Moffat, 6-1 in league play this year, losing only to unbeaten Mike Machette of Redwood, downed Dick Rauleby of Ignacio Valley, 6-3, 6-2, to take the title. In earlier rounds, he beat Will Leonard of Miramonte 7-5, 6-2 and Amelio Amonte of Canyon, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2.

In doubles, the MCAL representatives, Tom Klyse and Tony Lugo of San Rafael, fell to San Leandro in the first round, 6-4, 6-4.



BEATING THE REST OF THE BIRDS

Archer Adds $20,000 To His Bank Account

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — George Archer of Gilroy added $20,000 to his swelling bank account today — the result of a string of birdies that won the Greater New Orleans Open Golf title.

The 6-foot-6 pro nailed down first place in the $100,000 tournament yesterday on the 18th green by tapping in a five-foot putt for his fourth birdie on the back nine.

At 67, Archer was four under par over the demanding 6,560-yard Lakewood Country Club course — 13 under at 271 for the 72 holes. His slice of the cash boosted his PGA tour earnings to $77,632 for the year.

A supurb finishing round of 66, five under par, boosted Bert Yancey to the second spot and a $12,000 payoff. Miller Barber, Tom Weiskopf and Bobby Cole tied for third at 276.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael shot a third straight 73 for a 286, good for $292.

Barber and Weiskopf were tied for the lead when the final round began but both fired 73s for the last 18 holes.

Cole, who had a 65 Saturday, ran into a horrendous triple bogey at No. 15 when his tee shot disappeared in thick Spanish moss hanging from a cypress tree, and finished with a 70.

Archer was one under on the front nine. At No. 10 he three-putted from 45 feet for a bogey 5. Then he buckled down.

On 11 he chipped in from off the green for a birdie. At 12 he rammed in a 15-foot birdie putt. At 13 his lie was four feet off the green and 30 feet from the flag but his chip shot ran straight to

Girvin Sets Divisional Swim Mark

Fabulous Bob Girvin set a North Coast division record and won two events to lead a flock of Marin County Athletic League splashers in the North Coast Division II Swim meet at Pittsburg Saturday.

Girvin, of Drake High, won the 200 Individual Medley in 2:07.0 for a new division record and also grabbed the 100 backstroke in 58.9.

Redwood's 200 medley relay team also won, in 1:49.0.

A pack of other MCAL swimmers qualified for North Coast Section Finals at Santa Rosa next Saturday. There were no team results kept at the section meet.

Qualifying from Marin were Dave Topance of San Rafael and Ben Edmands of Drake in the 50 free, Ed Letterman of Redwood and Bob Brandt of Terra Linda in diving, Edmands and Greg Myers of Redwood in the 100 fly, Chuck Gorrill of Tamalpais and Ken James of Redwood in the 100 free, Pete Locati of Drake and Tom Smiley of Tam in the 400 free and Chris Averill of Tam, Jim Morris of San Rafael, Phil Joncquheer of Redwood and Ken DeMont of Redwood in the 100 breast. The Tamalpais 400 free relay team also qualified.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Its frame badly wrenched in a practice accident yesterday, the STP turbocar that nearly won last year's Indianapolis 500 mile race probably won't be repaired in time to make the May 30 classic.

FRESNO RELAYS

Billy Mills Is Ahead Of Training Schedule

FRESNO (AP) — Billy Mills, the United States' hero of the 1964 Olympic Games, set his sights on another victory in the grueling 10,000-meter race and feels he's well ahead in his raining program.

A member of the Marines when he won at Tokyo, Mills now works for an insurance company in San Diego and so far has concentrated on shorter races.

At the West Cost Relays on Saturday night, he placed third in the two-mile race won by Veteran steeple chase runner Pat Traynor in 8 minutes 42.2 seconds. Mills' time was 8:43.3 for the race of about one-third the distance of his Olympic event.

"I was happy with that showing," declared the ex-marine who proved four years ago that American runners can win over the long haul. He doesn't know how the altitude at Mexico City will affect him, but he says he hopes to get in a lot of high altitude training this summer.

"I'm way ahead of my 1964 schedule," Mills declared, "but I'm going to keep running the two-mile races for a while."

Billy wasn't much affected by the wind and chilly weather on Saturday night which spoiled many record attempts. Despite the weather, however, Bob Seagren of Southern California boosted his meet record pole vault to 17 feet 6¼ inches. He missed his three attempts at 17-8½ string to better the world record held by teammate Paul Wilson, who missed this event because of a pulled muscle.

Villanova's mile relay team, anchored by Dave Patrick, clocked only 7 minutes 23.5 seconds off the world record of 7:16 at which it aimed. Jim Ryun brought Kansas into second place as he made up about 25 yards on his anchor lap after starting in fifth place.

Earl McCullouch won the high hurles in 13.3 seconds, just one-tenth off the world record the Southern Californian star shares.

San Jose State, winning the 880, mile and distance medley relays, captured the team title with 71 points. Brigham Young took second with 56, followed by California 37, Arizona State 36⅓, New Mexico 24 and Villanova 23.

Trojan Jayvees, Frosh Lead Loop

Terra Linda High School's "farm teams" — the frosh and junior varsity — emulated the league-leading varsity in Marin County Athletic League baseball play yesterday.

Both teams won and lead their classifications. The Jayvees beat Redwood 6-1, and lead the JV standings with an 8-1 record. The frosh beat the Giants' first-year men, 6-2, to clinch at least a tie for the championship with a perfect 8-0 mark.

Tanforan To Open Season

ALBANY (AP) — The Pacific Racing Association winds up its 50-day portion of the spring racing season at Golden Gate Fields today, with Tanforan taking over the Albany course Wednesday.

The Tanforan meeting at Golden Gate will continue for 24 racing days through June 15. Tanforan runs its remaining five weeks at Bay Meadows in the fall, beginning Sept. 6.

In the last big race under Pacific Racing Association management, Lucky P. J. overtook Most Host in the stretch Saturday and scored a three-quarter length victory in the $30,000 added Golden Gate Handicap.

Time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:42 2-5, just 3-5 of a second off the track record of 1:40 4-5 set in 1958 by Seaneen.

Lucky, P.M. paid $13.20, $4.60 and $3.40. Most Host paid second place money of $3 and $2.60, and third-place Mainsheet paid $5.60.

"I was having a tough time, fighting it all the way," he said. "It's nice to know I can win and not hit the ball perfectly.

"A guy like Jack Nicklaus wins 60 per cent of his tournaments when he's not playing his best game but a man like me can't do it."

Nicklaus, however, was far down the money list here. His first three rounds were even par.

His fourth was a 68—highlighted by a drive that carried the 380-yard, par-4 16th from the tee. He tied at 13th place and picked up $1,900.

Weiskopf, leading money winner on the tour, lost his touch after a minor accident on the 10th tee. A wind gust blew down the portable score board—with the loud clatter coming just as Weiskopf was at the top of his backswing.

Weiskopf dropped his club and stalked away, then returned to hook his tee shot behind some trees — and hook his second shot into one of the 11 lakes on the course.

The double bogey 6, combined with a bogey on the next hole, dropped him out of contention.

Tamalpais, Redwood Win Prep Track-Field Honors

Redwood, 43-2½ in the shot and Mark Lewis Marin Catholic, 10-9 in the pole vault.

In the Class B trials, Wayne Horiuchi of Redwood set a mark of 4:47 in the mile, then broke it again in Saturday's meet with a hot 4:36.5. Rich Smartt of Drake cleared 5-11 in the high jump, which would have been good enough to win the varsity, in the B trials. He cleared 5-8 in the finals.

Saturday, Marin Catholic's Joe Kinn ran his heart out in setting a 1:08.s mark in the frosh 880. The B 880 mark also fell, with Rick Taldo turning in a 2:05.6 for Tamalpais. Penka broke his own 70 high hurdles mark with a 9.8 in the frosh and Paul Crovo jumped 19-3⅞ for a frosh long jump mark.

Gary Suderstrom of Tam set a B discus mark of 129-8 and Kevin Pusser of Redwood set a B two-mile mark of 10:05.4.

The top five finishers in this meet go on to the District II Sectional Meet to be held at Tamalpais High Friday.

Clippers Clash With San Diego

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Clippers will try to gain on the San Diego Toros Friday night when they are host to the Toros in the Oakland Coliseum.

San Diego, with a 7-2-1 record and 65 points, leads the North American Soccer League Pacific Division.

Oakland, after a 1-0 victory yesterday over Vancouver, had a 5-1-2 record with 47 points.

Montreal Wins Cup In Four

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens won the Stanley Cup, but veteran goaltender Glenn Hall of the St. Louis Blues probably put the series in its proper perspective with his post-game comments.

"You could have flipped a coin in some of those games to decide the winner," Hall said, after the tenacious Blues had bowed out in four straight games with Saturday's 3-2 loss.

The victory, before a crowd of 15,505, gave Montreal its 13th Stanley Cup since 1930 and its third in a four-year span.

The powerful Canadiens, who swept through the Boston Bruins in four straight and beat the Chicago Black Hawks in five games, were limited to a one-goal margin in each of their four victories over St. Louis.

They won by 3-2, 1-0, 4-3 and 3-2 margins, with the first and third games decided in overtime.

On the other side of the rink, the traditional champagne party in the winners' dressing room was sputtering slowly after a post-game announcement by Coach Toe Blake that he was resigning after guiding the team to nine league titles and eight Stanley Cups since 1955.

It meant the close-knit Canadiens' organization was losing the cog that had held it together through the troublesome times of the early season going, before the club caught fire last Christmas to climb from the cellar to a first-place finish.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tiant Stretches Shutout String

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

They say pitching is 75 per cent of the game and when Luis Tiant is the man on the mound, enemy batters have trouble getting their 25 per cent worth.

Tiant hurled his fourth straight shutout yesterday, beating Baltimore on four hits as Cleveland took the first game of a doubleheader 2-0. Stan Williams then tacked on eight more scoreless innings before Brooks Robinson homered to break the spell but the Indians completed the sweep, 4-1.

If the Orioles were somewhat suspicious of Tiant's shutout string before yesterday, it was understandable. The Cuban-born right-hander had a 0-6 lifetime record against them in four previous big-league seasons.

But he struck out nine and was in control all the way, besting Tom Phoebus in a pitcher's duel. Tony Horton's sixth inning single gave Tiant the only run he needed and Dave Nelson's suicide squeeze bunt brought in the other in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the American League yesterday, Boston swept a doubleheader from New York 8-1 and 4-2, Washington dropped Detroit 6-3, Minnesota rapped California 4-2 in 10 innings and Oakland took Chicago 6-2.

Tiant's four shutouts leave him one short of the major league record set in 1904 by Doc White of the Chicago White Sox. His 36 consecutive shutout innings are 20 away from the mark set by Walter Johnson. He is sporting a 1.73 earned run average.

Williams almost duplicated Tiant's job. He held the Orioles scoreless on four hits until Robinson connected in the ninth. In all the Indians have won 16 games, nine of them on shutouts.

Cleveland, with 10 victories in 11 starts and four straight over Baltimore, has soared into a second place tie with the Orioles, who've dropped six in a row.

Detroit is still in front despite Sunday's loss to the Senators.

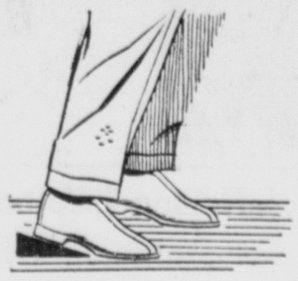
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

SHUFFLE-STEP CURTAILS 'BOBBING'



As you approach the foul line, your head must be kept steady. Bobbing the head sets the arc of your swing. The way to avoid "bobbing" is to keep your feet moving in a sort of a shuffle instead of taking actual steps. Your head should gradually lower as you move forward.

Dodgers Edge Braves In 12-Inning Battle

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Davis kept the faith in one old baseball adage and Walter Alston flouted another. The Los Angeles Dodgers came out ahead both ways.

Davis overhauled the law of averages yesterday, breaking an 0-for-24 slump with a 12th inning triple and scoring on Zoilo Versalles' infield hit as the Dodgers nipped Atlanta 1-0 ... with the help of a hazardous managerial maneuver by Alston.

The Los Angeles skipper ordered Hank Aaron walked intentionally—putting the potential winning run on base—during the Braves' last-ditch rally in the bottom of the 12th.

"I wasn't going to let Aaron beat me," said Alston, explaining why he had Jim Brewer walk Aaron with two out and Felipe Alou, who had doubled, in scoring position. "I broke an unwritten rule, but Hank's one of those rare characters you can justify breaking that rule for."

The Dodgers got away with it when Jim Grant, third reliever in the inning, induced pinch hitter Deron Johnson to bounce into a game-ending force play at second.

In other National League squeakers Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1, Houston shaded first place St. Louis 3-2 and Cincinnati came from behind to beat San Francisco 3-1. The Chicago Cubs divided a doubleheader with New York, topping the Mets 4-3 before taking a 10-0 drubbing in the nightcap.

Davis lined a shot up the right center field alley with two out in the 12th and legged the hit into a triple. Versalles then brought home the game's only run by beating out a roller to the left side.

Davis' triple off Cecil Upshaw was only the fourth hit for the Dodgers, who managed just two in eight innings against starter Dick Kelley. Don Sutton, who worked the first nine innings, winner Jack Billingham, John Purdin, Brewer and Grant limited the Braves to seven hits.

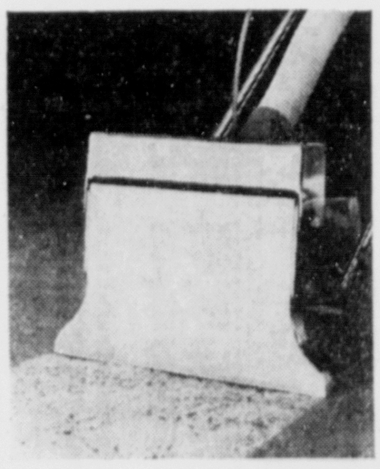
DEEP STEAM Wall to Wall Carpet Cleaning

This unique new process cleans deep and yet treats the finest carpet with loving care...



DEEP STEAM removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. Since no brushes or scrubbing action are used, there is no distortion of the carpet pile. The powerful extraction action of the DEEP STEAM process lifts matted pile to "like new" appearance. The need of frequent professional cleaning is reduced because deeply embedded soil is removed and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.

OLD

The old equipment with brushes, using liquid detergent or powder, scrubs the soil DEEPER into the fabric ... and even with the help of a vacuum fails to remove soil or residue. The detergent or powder left in the fabric soon attracts more soil and it is not long before the soil works back to the surface. Soon your carpets appear more soiled than before!

THIS DEEP STEAM PROCESS IS GUARANTEED TO BE COMPLETELY SAFE ON ALL FABRICS UNDER ALL CONDITIONS!

Have your loose rugs and furniture steam cleaned at our plant

The advantages of DEEP STEAM CLEANING are obvious!

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Financial Planning For Inflation Bite

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am 50 with a good income and could retire now on a comfortable pension. However, I do not contemplate this move for several years. We own free and clear our home, have $13,000 in the bank and $24,000 in savings bonds. It seems to me that I have not put my savings to the best use over the years. I would appreciate your advice. — J.C.

A. You have achieved at 50 a financial position that is the goal of most average Americans, yet you feel uneasy and there is good reason for concern.

You have only one asset that is likely to rise in value to keep pace with the economy — your home. Other major assets, a bank account and bonds, are excellent but your capital and the income therefrom remain fixed. Each year you can buy less with each dollar you have put away. In order to protect yourself against dollar erosion, you would be wise to embark on an investment program.

Growth stocks whose price is determined by supply and demand, when held over a period of years, usually increase in value substantially. As a start I suggest that you buy equal dollar amounts of three or four strong growth stocks using $10,000 of your savings.

You might consider Gillette benefiting from consumer demand; Consolidated Foods expanding through acquisitions, or Eastman Kodak, just recently split.

Q. Can you tell me what the term "book value" means? How important is it to an investor? — A.A.

A. Book value — or net assets divided by the number of shares outstanding — has very little meaning for the average investor. More meaningful is the value placed on the stock by the market. For instance, Sharon Steel with a book value of about $60 trades in the mid-30s whereas Avon Products with a book value of $5.20 had traded all this year above 110. Factors such as earnings and future prospects are much more significant for a potential investor.

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Koracorp Industries, Inc., has reported that earnings for the first quarter of 1968 were 16.5 per cent above the same period last year.

NOT FOR THE YULE TREE

They may look like Christmas tree ornaments, but these gold "iron bulbs" actually wage electronic warfare on room odors and germs. Used in room purifiers and range hoods, they omit charged atoms that seek out electrons — in the form of germs and odors — and destroy them by absorbing them. They are manufactured by the Scovill Co. plant in Washington, N.C. (UPI Telephoto)

Regular Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Directors of Wells Fargo Bank have declared the regular 35 cent quarterly dividend on the bank's capital stock, payable July 10 to stockholders of record at the close of business June 19. This continues the annual rate of $1.40 a share.
